Army Depot Ready for 25th Year Activities

Initial Events Monday; Parade, Ceremonies, Tours of Base Tuesday

All is in readiness for a gala observance of the 25th anniversary of the Granite City Army Depot, established Aug. 1, 1942. Crowning of a queen at a luncheon and an evening dinner honoring enlisted men are set for Monday. Tours, a parade and ceremonies are scheduled for Tuesday.

Approximately 40 representatives of the news media in the Illinois—Missouri metropolitan area were briefed at the Army Depot last night on program details for the Depot's silver anniversary.

At a press conference conducted in the Officers Club, Col. Charles E. Hoskin III, commanding officer, also outlined to news reporters a history of the depot's establishment and operations in this area, discussed its present personnel and physical factors, and told of the part the installation plays in receiving, storing and shipping military equipment to all parts of the world.

Col. Hoskin's presentation was illustrated by slides showing the Depot's facilities and with charts and descriptive material.

Noting the occasion was the first time representatives of various news media had gathered at the Depot, Col. Hoskin pointed out the American people are stockholders in a giant corporation (government) and the news media as the vehicle by which management keeps its stockholders informed. "We are conscious of our responsibilities to the public at all times," he continued.

Reviewing the 25-year history of the depot, Col. Hoskin pointed out the depot's strategic position in relation to transportation facilities.

Transportation Links

"We are located adjacent to the second largest railroad and trucking centers in the U. S.," Col. Hoskin said. "A major commercial artery (St. Louis) is at our disposal. In addition, Scott Air Force Base provides us vital military service."

Proximity to the Army Mobility Equipment Command and Army Aviation Materiel Command's St. Louis headquarters also is advantageous in meeting the Depot's responsibilities, he said.

Included in the Army base's 577 acres of real estate holdings is property on both sides of the Mississippi River, the commanding officer explained. Value of real property amounts to $23,672,000, he said, including 26 buildings. The Depot has 23 miles of paved roads and 29 miles of railroad tracks within its perimeter.

Illustrating his remarks with a series of color slides, Col. Hoskin noted in one sequence the installation's additional warehouse facilities at 4000 Goodfellow Blvd., St. Louis. Another slide showed 122 family housing units, also located in St. Louis, that are available to Army, Navy, Air Force and Coast Guard personnel and their dependents stationed in the two-state metropolitan area.

Facilities Described

Other sequences described by the commanding officer showed:

Intersection of What and Which St.

Residents of the intersection of Rodger and Jill avenues are going to have to guess at the address for a while.

Street Supt. William Warfield said this week's planksters have been off the street signs for the second consecutive time, and he has no plans to replace them again unless directly ordered to do so by the city council.

Madison to Sell Bridge Property On St. Louis Side

The city of Madison is advertising for bids for sale of Chain of Rocks Bridge property on the St. Louis side of the Mississippi River.

Mayor Stephen Maeras reported at a city council meeting Tuesday that the property, containing three to four acres, is part of a tract needed for a major development which will be credited to the city of St. Louis and the surrounding area if the bid submitted is to our liking. He said he is not at liberty at this time to disclose the nature of the large complex being planned. At one time a large marina was considered for the area.

Bids will be opened at the city council meeting at 8 p.m. Sept. 5. The council may reject any and all bids.

Vehicle Easement

The proposed sale reserves a 30-foot easement to the city for vehicular traffic across the bridge.

The property is part of the old estate of Benjamin F. Watkins. It has a 150 to 200-foot front on Riverview drive and is about 518 feet deep to the river bank. The mayor said other property to be acquired from the state of Missouri.

Mayor Maeras said the city is still offering to lease its bridge property to the state of Missouri for $8000 per month for a similar figure. He said the city should obtain at least 10% of any operation on city-owned property.

Leo J. Heibel of Madison, one of two men who have obtained a county license for a landfill site, said he has no intention of not having an opportunity to court business.

Court Action Awaited

Noting that the Madison county board of supervisors has adopted a resolution outlawing dumping from Missouri and other areas outside of the county, the mayor said there is "no need to discuss the landfill site."

It was noted that the Illinois Public Health Department, which inspected the site, has given formal approval for its use as a landfill.

Organization of the Madison City Plan Commission has been completed, with John Bellocchi, city clerk, named as chairman and Roy J. Hill Jr. as secretary. Tenure was decided by lot, with Alex Schenckhoff drawing one year term, Bill Norman Owens and John Kopchak two years, and William D. Fowler and Raymond Green three years. The next meeting is set for Sept. 7.

Theodore Miskell, executive director of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Plan Commission, who attended the city council meeting, said its master plan studies for Madison and Venice will require another year before completion.

Schermer Appointed

Avery Schermer of Schermer's market was appointed to represent the city on the new Southwestern Bi-County Council for Employment of the Handicapped. Carl Mathias of Illinois Power & Co. is Madison county chairman. (Continued on page 5, col. 5)

Explosives on Way to GC Depot Derailed

The 50th Ordnance Explosive Disposal unit of the Granite City Army Depot was deployed to Labadie, Mo., last night to unload a freight car of explosives involved in a 20-car derailment near Labadie about 35 miles west of St. Louis.

The 33-car Rock Island Lines freight train, drawn from Kansas City, Mo., to St. Louis, was partially derailed about 3 p.m. Wednesday. The explosive material was being shipped to the Army Depot. Cause of the derailment was not immediately determined.

Officials said the car of explosives had not broken open.

Staff Size Stabilizing in GC Steel Changeover

5053 Staff at Present; Industry-wide Rise in Business Anticipated

There has been no significant change in the employment situation at Granite City Steel Co. during recent months, according to payroll statistics compiled by the local industry.

The changeover from the open hearth to the basic oxygen furnace systems about June 1 has caused less of a displacement of personnel than previously expected, a spokesman said.

Records show 5178 employees on the payroll during March compared to 5053 this month, and that amount of variation is normal at any time throughout the steel industry, the spokesman said.

He added also that March is a peak period, and the summer months are slower. Employment is not as high as in 1966, but business was booming then, he said.

Business took a drop through the industry last year and has remained at a consistent level. The spokesman said industrial leaders expect and hope to see a pickup in August and September.

It was noted that early in June the company was saying publicly that the number of displaced employees would not exceed 300 and possibly would be less.

A little more than 100 open hearth employees chose to find jobs in other departments, "bumping" employees who had less seniority, the record showed.

Others elected to wait for BOF jobs when they became available, and still others decided to transfer to other departments in a BOF operation is regarded as harder and partly because improved pension adjustments are in effect now, the spokesman said.

Leo J. Heibel of Madison, one of two men who have obtained a county license for a landfill site, said he has no intention of not having an opportunity to court business.

Noting that the Madison county board of supervisors has adopted a resolution outlawing dumping from Missouri and other areas outside of the county, the mayor said there is "no need to discuss the landfill site."

Bus Riding Drops 3% This Year

A drop of 3% in bus riding this year was reported by the Bi-State Transit system yesterday in a meeting of the Bi-State Development Agency.

Revenue of the transit system last month amounted to $1,987,218 and operating expenses to $1,737,317, he said. During the 12-month period from July, 1966, to June 30 this year, the system lost $24,252, with operating expenses of $20,507,044.

A spokesman for the system said bus riding was cut last month by the rains.

The Bi-State Agency commissionees approved a plan to initiate shuttle bus service between the Gateway Arch and a point in downtown St. Louis, with detailed plans yet to be worked out.

They also approved a year-around and discussed methods of handling crowds and otherwise operating the train system in the north leg of the Gateway Arch.

Operation of Bi-State Parks Airpark also was presented.

Parked Auto Struck

An auto driven by George Anselmo, 2200 S. Adams, struck the left rear fender of the parked car of Robert M. Donoff, 2683 Angela drive, 215 p.m. Wednesday at 27th and East Delmar avenue.

BIT OF AN EXAGGERATION

In territorial limits is visible along West Pontoon road west of The Colonnades nursing home, near Illinois Route Three. A sign newly installed by a highway crew identifies the area erroneously as Pontoon Beach, actually situated several miles to the east. Another error can be seen in the photograph taken yesterday afternoon—the station wagon has crossed into the third lane of the four-lane pavement to pass the truck.

Committee Seeks Repeal of County Landfill Action

The sanitation committee of the Madison county board of supervisors will seek repeal of a resolution banning all communities outside of the county from dumping their refuse in any Madison county landfills.

At a committee meeting Monday afternoon in Edwardsville, it authorized Gerald J. McGivern, assistant state's attorney, to draft a repeal resolution for presentation at the August 16 meeting of the county board.

The ban was adopted unanimously at the board's July meeting, and repeal would require a two-thirds vote.

If the repeal action is unsuccessful, the committee headed by Carl Buehler of Granite City, will ask the board to advise zoning administrator Jack Clifford against enforcement of the law.

The amendment outlawing outside dumping was offered at the July 19 meeting by Supervisor Gilbert Killinger of Collinsville despite an opinion by State's Atty. Leon Scroggins that it was unconstitutional.

Clifford has announced that he does not plan to enforce the Killinger resolution and has been advised by the state's attorney's office that he could be held legally responsible for the loss of income to landfill operators.

The sanitation committee plans to meet with the board's steering committee on Aug. 9 to discuss the situation.

Techniques of Public Speaking Rotary Topic

Courage and preparation—both are needed to master "The Art of Public Speaking," according to John Brennan of East St. Louis, a longtime member of Toastmasters International, who discussed the topic at the Granite City Rotary club's weekly luncheon Tuesday.

Approximately 55 members and a guest, Wilbur R. L. Trimpe, Madison county superintendent of schools, attended at the YMCA. Richard Lantz, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker.

Board chairman of the Midwest Hospital Credit Managers' Association, Brennan also is a past president and area governor of Toastmasters.

The speaker said courage is required to "get up and face" an audience, but stressed this can be acquired through practice. In addition, he commented, thorough preparation of one's topic is a "must" to present any subject effectively.

In the business session, Rotary President Arthur Johnson, urged club members to volunteer their services in helping to decorate the Rotary float to be entered in the Granite City Army Depot's 25th Anniversary parade Tuesday.

Decorating chores will get underway at 9 a.m. Monday in the parking area at Granite City high school.

James Louis, special events chairman, reported more than 40 reservations made for an annual baseball game trip, set for Aug. 8.

Mrs. Meyer Added to Paddlers Club Board

Mrs. Lavena Meyer, an active member of Paddlers, Inc., was named to the private swimming club's board of directors at a meeting of the executive group this week. She will complete the unexpired two-year term of Mr. Homer Johnson, who died suddenly April 22.

The new director, a former YMCA instructor, is active in Paddlers' "housewives' hour." The noon to 1 p.m. recreation and exercise program, conducted daily, still has openings for additional women to attend, it was announced. Participants enjoy a pot luck luncheon each Tuesday and Thursday at the pool in connection with the program.

Mrs. Mary Jesse, special events chairman, reported on success of a recent "teenage night" party which attracted 195 young people. She said a family-style basket picnic is tentatively planned for Aug. 26.

Approval was given issuance of stock shares to the families of Fred Belcher, Harry Borchelt and John Hogan. Mickey Loftus, Paddlers president, conducted the meeting.

Directors present were Louis Buxton, Elmer Miller Jr., Frances McBride, Dr. Alan Skirball, Homer Blumenstock, Andrew Gitchett, Mrs. Mary E. G. Jesse, Mrs. Vivienne Durbin and Earl Bueger and a advisory board members Edwin Hoff and Richard Dittinger.

Patients Like 4 Meals a Day

St. Elizabeth Hospital's four-meal-a-day program, currently in its fourth week, is being evaluated by hospital officials. Visits with a number of patients have revealed that they like the program.

The most common reasons given by the patients were: (1) four meals are more satisfying to the appetites they experience as patients; (2) they waste less food when it is served in smaller portions at shorter intervals.

Mrs. Marieta Daniels, nursing service director, comments, "The greatest advantage of the program is elimination of delay in serving fasting-patients as they return to the nursing units from x-ray." She added that "certain aspects of the program are still being improved."

One of the more significant changes brought about by the four-meal-a-day program is that early morning and evening patient trays are assembled by nursing unit personnel. The food comes to the nursing units on large utility carts from the dietary department, where it is prepared.

The Dietary Department continues to assemble mid-morning and afternoon trays in the kitchen.

Sister Mary Thomas, hospital administrator, says, "A great deal of study and planning had gone into the change, and the cooperation of hospital employees had been a major factor in making the program a success."

Arch System Policies On Rides and Tickets

Hours of operation of the Passenger Transportation System of the Gateway Arch in St. Louis were outlined yesterday by the Bi-State Development Agency.

The hours are: Monday through Friday, 12 noon to 10 p.m.; Saturdays and Sundays, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Sale of tickets may be suspended intermittently during the day to reduce waiting time between purchase of tickets and the trip to the top of the Arch to under two hours.

Sale of tickets will be suspended each night at approximately 9 p.m. or sooner if necessary to permit all passengers having tickets and in time to be transported to the top of the Arch prior to 9:30 p.m.

Barbecue Pits Damaged

Vandals damaged two barbecue pits in Lee Park, Venice, according to a report to Venice police Tuesday by Marion Groshing, park superintendent. A top layer of bricks on each pit was torn off.

Experience to date indicates that some people do not understand that the ride to the top of the arch requires a minimum round trip of approximately 10 minutes, not counting viewing time. The fast full load will go up no later than 9:30 p.m. due to this time requirement.

Tickets remain valid until the day for use several days later is possible.

MORE ABOUT Council Faces

ever, called for a roll call vote and the amendment motion carried with 10 favorable votes and three against it. With 13 council members present, Nega-tive votes were cast by Alder-man Walter Nunn, Sam Whittier and Paul Rutledge. Aldermen Earl Jarrett, Edmund Bartosik and Richard Fry were absent.

Since approval of the amend-ment increased the budget fig-ure, Nunn told the council that he would refuse to vote in favor of any budget that exceeded the city's projected income for the year, "and that's what this bud-get does."

Suspension Move Defeated

A subsequent vote on Poulos' motion to suspend the rules for final passage was 10-3 in favor, but the motion lost because an affirmative vote of 11 council members, two-thirds of the total 16-man council, is required to approve a suspension of rules.

The negative votes of the day were cast by Whittier, Rutledge and Nunn.

Poulos immediately moved to place the budget on first read-ing. There was no further dis-cussion and the motion carried 10-3, with Whittier, Rutledge and Nunn again casting the "no" votes.

Robertson moved to call the special meeting Saturday to con-tinue the discussion. This is carried 12-1, with Gerald Parm-ley casting the only "no" vote.

Mayor Parmey presented council members with a new budget during the meeting, set-ting up appropriations totaling $2,201,906 in comparison to the $2,271,723 contained in the bud-get at the end of Monday night's meeting.

Council members made no ref-erence to it. The mayor also

600-Mile Voyage GC Council Has 2 Meetings Needed to Bring New Vessel Here

The Granite City council has manuevered itself into the unique position of conducting two im-portant meetings at the same time Saturday morning, but the aldermen won't be required to be in two places at the same time.

The two meetings — a special budget session of the council and a public hearing on a sewer re-marks made while he was pre-paring his duties. In a letter forwarded to the Maryland Casu-alty Co., Paultz said the re-marks were not standard.

The McManaway agency in-formed the council that the city can insure its bridge tollhouse and equipment and that current insurance, for a total of $45,000, expires Aug. 4. The mayor said the building is to be razed soon.

The Sewer & Pipe Cleaning Co. of Collinsville was awarded a contract to clean seven manholes in West Madison on a low bid of $250. H & H Sewer Service of Granite City bid $350. Bids were required, as the sewers are too deep for city equipment.

The city building inspector was asked to raze three old and vac-ant fire-damaged homes on Ed-wardsville road as hazards to children playing in those areas.

A request by the Navy Mothers' Club to hold Sailor Boy tag sales in the city on Aug. 31 and Sept. 1 was approved.

The mayor reported on a three-hour tour of the new Lansdowne sewage treatment plant and said tours can be ar-ranged by phoning the East Side Levee & Sanitary District office in East St. Louis.

The "Swabby" will be escorted from the Granite City locks to its new harboring facilities at Alton by the houseboat "Frankie Paul," owned by Sidney Daugherty, Bow Line commodore.

Among those planning to greet them at the locks Friday are the Beavers' son, Seaman Ap-prentice Harvey Lynn Beaver, who is presently stationed at the Great Lakes, Ill., Naval Training Center, and Mr. and Mrs. Cor-nett. The trio will join the present crew for the remaining trip to the Alton Boat club, where the craft will be officially christ-ened.

Full Day of Depot Events Tuesday; Many Dignitaries

Many employees at the Gran-ite City Army Depot will be granted special constructive time periods from their regular duties Tuesday afternoon to en-joy an extensive array of events planned in connection with the installation's silver anniversary celebration.

Col. Charles E. Hoskin III, De-pot commanding officer, today announced that certain civilian personnel will be free to spend a relaxed afternoon viewing the many exhibits on display and to attend the four o'clock military retreat and awards presenta-tion.

An earlier awards ceremony and review, to take place at 1:30 p.m., with arrival at the Depot grounds of the 58-unit parade, will be highlighted by presenta-tion of awards to outstanding federal service employees.

Civilian Awards
A. H. Sonntag, chairman of the Federal Executive Board of Greater St. Louis, will present commendation and performance citations to civilian personnel, the Depot commander said.

At the same hour, the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce will un-veil its commemorative plaque embedded on a granite monu-ment the base of the post flagpole.

Another segment of the cere-mony will include presentation of a Minute Man flag and award of the council, which is connect-ed with the Specialized Services center in Granite City.

The council received notice of a suit filed against Police Chief Emmett Pata for Oscar and Bessie Greathouse over alleged remarks made while he was pre-paring his duties. In a letter forwarded to the Maryland Casu-alty Co., Pata said the re-marks were not standard.

2 Inter-City Baseball Contests Here Sunday

No matter what happens in Inter-City baseball this Sunday, the three local teams cannot fare as badly as they did last Sunday when they dropped all their games.

An all-Granite City contest between Sacred Heart (5-10) of the Red Division and Credit Union (7-8), of the Blue Division assures that much. The game will be played at Coolidge Junior high school at 2:30 p.m.

The third Granite City team, second-place Mercers (9-5) of the Blue Division, stands a good chance to fatten its record, as it hosts the late Collinsville Utes (1-13) at Wilson Park.

With a game-and-a-half lead over Mercer, East Alton will travel to Pocatontos (7-7). Pocatontos is third in the Blue Division, a half-game in front of Credit Union.

Troy and Collinsville will each keep an eye on the scoreboard to see how the other is doing, as the two teams are tied for first with 11-3 records on games against lower-ranked Red Division teams.

Moltor will be at home against last place Maryville (3-11), and will play on the road against the third-place Polish War Vets (7-8) of East St. Louis.

Merchants Conquer Credit Union, 8-7

Credit Union had the unsatisfying consolation of a familiar ballpayers' lament—"we bled then in every department except the final score"—as it dropped an 8-7 heartbreaker in extra innings to the Merchants Tuesday night.

The Fast Pitch League game was sent into extra innings when Don Crabtree of Credit Union scored a home run to tie the game in the seventh. Neither team threatened for the next two innings, but then in the top of the tenth Credit Union scored what appeared to be the winning run on a single and triple.

When the game was turned in the bottom of the inning, Credit Union had only itself to blame. Rich Franklin led off with a single, the next batter struck out and then consecutive errors allowed the two winning runs.

Norm Hessler had three of the Merchants' seven hits, while the Credit Union lineup combined for 13 hits. Four Credit Union errors gave the Merchants five unearned runs.

In another Fast Pitch League game, Kirchner warmed up for its quarterfinal round of the Illinois State Softball tournament this weekend by beating the Matweys Impalas 5-3.

Mathews hit only one ball out of the infield before the last inning, as Jerry Shelton had the team hitting weak ground balls and limited it to four hits while going the distance.

For Kirchner, Tom Ferguson singled and tripled and Rocky Doss singled twice.

One of the basic problems is getting youngsters interested enough to spend the time required to become a good modelist. It takes close to a half-year to build a first-rate model, Blum said.

Model Plane Tourney Offers Thrills, Spills

A speed of 135 miles an hour might not sound very fast for airplane travel. But consider this: A plane with a 25-cubic-inch engine and a 28-inch wingspan—and you have some idea of the high thrills, spills and excitement that can be had at model airplane contests in this area.

Approximately 100 model airplane enthusiasts from Illinois and surrounding states have entered a tournament to be held Sunday, Aug. 6, at the Civic Memorial Airport on Route 111, near Bethel.

The tournament is co-sponsored by the Tri-City Sky Stealers and the Alton Area Thunderbolts, model airplane clubs. Modelists will be competing in eight events for trophies and merchandise awards costing over $500.

One of the top contestants will be Warren MacZura, 3208 Aurora avenue, who won first place at the U. S. National Championships in 1966 with a model of the F-8E Bearcat. He spent three years in the U. S. Navy.

In recent years, model airplane contests have enjoyed a quiet boom in popularity.

The Aug. 6 tournament is one of more than 700 model airplane tournaments across the country sanctioned by the Academy of Model Aeronautics in Washington, D. C., each year.

With the exception of a few recreational and educational benefits, however, John D. Blum, tournament director, explains that model airplane clubs, such as the local group he organized have had to overcome numerous problems.

One of the basic problems is getting youngsters interested enough to spend the time required to become a good modelist. It takes close to a half-year to build a first-rate model, Blum said.

Control from the ground by fixed lengths of wire.
Blum gave this account of the tournament's main events:

Combat—"Two planes with three foot streamers will be flown from about 50 to 100 m.p.h. in close circles, with points awarded each time one manages to cut in and swipe crepe paper off the other. This event is a real crowd-pleaser, but the contestant has very little margin for error. If his plane strays a bit too far on making a pass, well, you'll see why we call this 'Combat'."

Rat Race—"This is modeling's answer to the Indianapolis 500. Four planes are raced in the same circle for a distance of five miles. There'll be high speed passing, pit stops, the works."

Stunt—"A straight speed event in which the model is flown against a stopwatch for the fastest time. Speeds of over 130 m.p.h. should be attained here."

Navy Carrier—"Scale models of U. S. Navy aircraft are scored on their facility at taking-off and landing on a simulated 8x4-foot carrier deck."

The contest is open to all who wish to attend or compete, and refreshments will be served on the field.

Dates and locations for the Illinois River drawings are:

Keep Cut Flowers Fresh

By MRS. CATHERINE MAUCK
Madison County Home Adviser
Getting the longest life from cut flowers is often a problem. To help solve this dilemma, G. M. Foster, University of Illinois floriculturist, passes on these suggestions.

Pick flowers either in the early morning or late in the evening when the stems are full of water. Cut them with a sharp knife—not with scissors or shears. Take a container of water with you to the garden and put the stems into it immediately. Cutting the stem bases at an angle may aid in water up-take.

Indoors, fill a deep container with lukewarm to warm water, about 85 to 100 degrees F. Then plunge the flowers into the water. Place the container in a cool spot overnight or for a few hours to allow the flowers to "harden off," or take up all the water they can.

To further extend the life of cut flowers, use one of the commercial flower preservatives. You can buy them at almost any flower shop or plant counter. Use as directed by the manufacturer.

When arranging flowers, remove the lower foliage on the stems so that it is not submerged in the water.

Keep your flower arrangements out of drafts or direct sunlight, and avoid low humidity and excess temperatures. Placing the vase of flowers in a cool location at night will also help to lengthen their life.

When the flowers begin to wilt, it is often helpful to recut the stems and plunge them in the water into the warm water, 85 to 100 degrees F., to revive them.

Flowers with woody stems often present a special problem. To allow them to take up more water to lengthen their life, Foster recommends vertically splitting the stem ends with cuts several inches long.

To keep flowers that have a plentiful flow of sticky sap, such as poppies, single or char the cut end of the stem over an open flame, or dip the bottom one-half inch of the stem into boiling water for one and one-half to three minutes.

And remember, putting pennies or aspirin into the water doesn't help to keep flowers fresh. Such "treatments" are simply old superstitions.

Before you send these synthetic blankets into summer storage, launder them or have them dry-cleaned.

You can launder blankets of Acrilan, Creslan, Orlon, and Dynel if you follow approved rules.

Use warm water and an all-purpose detergent, and keep the washing time short. From three to five minutes should be enough agitation.

Set your dryer for medium-to-low heat, and avoid overdrying. This temperature range will help to renew or fluff the nap. Finish the fluffing job by brushing the blanket lightly with a soft brush. A stiff, harsh brush can damage the nap.

If you need to press the blanket binding, use a warm iron only. Package the blanket and store it loosely. Tight wrappings and storage under too much weight will crush the nap.

Madison County Farm News

By WARREN W. BUNDY
Madison County Farm Adviser

Six dairymen in the Madison county Dairy Herd Improvement Association had herds with more than 500 pounds butterfat average per cow the past test year.

Samuel J. Dorsey, Moro, owns the high herd, which averaged 538 pounds butterfat and 15,138 pounds milk per cow.

Other herds are Waldo Keilbach, Highland, 536 pounds butterfat; Leland Steiner, Highland, 526 pounds butterfat; Norman Henke, Stanton, 523 pounds butterfat; George Dabber, Highland, 510 pounds butterfat; and Marvin Sille, Alhambra, 507 pounds butterfat.

The ten highest producing herds in the Madison county Dairy Herd Improvement Association in June were owned by Marvin Sille, Harold Klenke, Norman Henke, Jim Beane, Henry Zoelter, Willard Blase, Milton Hitz, Walter Keilbach, Eugene Meffert and Elmer Hest.

Highest producing herd for the month was owned by Marvin Sille. This herd consisted of 32 cows. Average production was 1.68 pounds butterfat and 45.4 pounds milk per day with an average butterfat test of 3.7 percent.

Completing the 305 days lactation with a record of 600 pounds fat or more was a nine-year-old in the herd of Walter Sievers with 18,327 pounds milk and 662 pounds fat.

Illinois dairy cows enrolled in DHIA produced about 3000 pounds more milk per cow than all cows in the state for the test year ending in April 1967, says Gary Harpestad, University of Illinois extension dairy specialist.

More than 70,000 cows in 1308 herds completed at least one year on continuous test in April. Each cow on DHIA test averaged 12,175 pounds of milk and 466 pounds of butterfat. All cows in Illinois averaged 9220 pounds of milk per cow last year.

The top herd in Illinois is owned by Fred Kyburz, Chatsworth. Last year, his 43 Holstein cows averaged 18,525 pounds of milk and 678 pounds of butterfat per cow.

For the third successive year, Rosewood Farm, Roselle, topped the Guernsey breed with 76 cows that averaged 12,608 pounds of milk and 624 pounds of fat per cow. The herd owned by J. C. Piper and sons, Sumner, led the Jersey breed with 53 cows averaging 9994 pounds of milk and 352 pounds of fat.

Mal Ral Farm, Huntley, had the best Ayrshire herd. These 57 cows averaged 13,801 pounds of milk and 513 pounds of fat. For the second successive year, the herd owned by Raymond Eisenmann, Clinton Park, is the top Brown Swiss herd; his 18 cows produced an average 13,688 pounds of milk and 626 pounds of butterfat per cow.

Impartial supervisors weigh the milk from all herds enrolled in DHIA and test it for butterfat. Electronic data processing machines at the University of Illinois calculate and analyze the production records.

Women Have Played a Key Role in History of Army Depot

afp
1A

25TH ANNIVERSARY activities of the Granite City Army Depot spotlight the role of the local military installation in supplying equipment to American servicemen in Vietnam and elsewhere.

But there is a feminine side to the observance — as attested to by the anniversary queen contest — and also a feminine aspect of the Depot's 25-year history.

Female employees of the Granite City Army Depot were a major factor in its contributions to the nation's success in world war II and in later achievements.

The accompanying pictures tell part of the story.

The scenes at left, beginning at the top, show some of the women who served as wartime guards at the Depot while many men were fighting overseas; motion picture actress Gene Tierney signing her autograph during a war bond rally at the local base; and a typical office gathering at the Granite City Depot when news of victory in Europe was received in 1945.

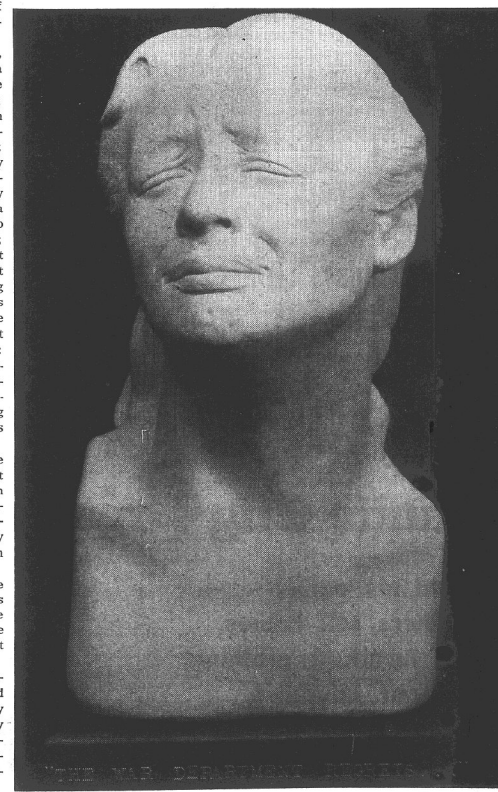

Photographs at right, starting at the top, show a woman truck driver at the Depot during world war II; a secretary at work in an office established in a wooden barracks structure; members of a Quad-City women's organization presenting a plaque to military personnel at the Depot in a ceremony held adjacent to the retreat parade cannon; and a Depot artwork that symbolizes one of its most difficult tasks, informing local relatives of the deaths of soldiers in combat. The inscription contains the first words of the sad message: "The War Department regrets . . ." The facial expression indicates the anguish that such words bring to wives, mothers, sisters and other family members.

Other instances of female participation in the Depot program come to mind on the occasion of the 25th anniversary. One was the assignment of Women's Army Corps officers here in March 1944.

Numerous United Service Organization (USO) dances and parties were held at the Depot and at the Granite City YMCA during the past quarter century.

And Depot women employees have participated generously in a wide variety of patriotic and community betterment activities, including savings bond purchases and blood contributions.

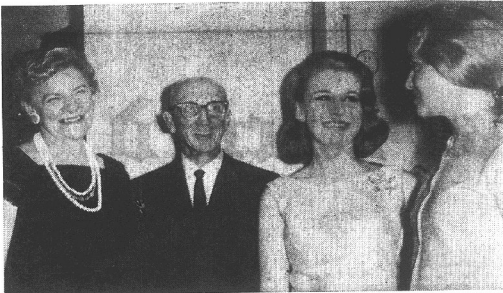

School Board Council At St. Margaret Mary

At a general parish meeting of the congregation of the Church of St. Margaret Mary Tuesday night, a School Board Council was formed and members were elected by the congregation.

Those serving on the council are Gene Roberts, William Bredendach, William Connolly, John Moseley, Charles King and Charles Ruth. These six members together with the pastor, Rev. A. J. Schwellenbach, and the principal of the school, Sister Marie Monica, O.S.F., constitute the School Board Council of the church.

The work of the council is to assist in directing the operation of the school, consider the financial responsibilities of the school and set policies for admissions to the school and scheduling of events.

In order to give the laity more of an active part in the operation of the school, in accord with the suggestions of the Vatican II Council, the pastor of the parish approved formation and election of the board.

$12,051 Postal Savings Accounts Transferred

Unclaimed postal savings transferred this month to the Treasury Department have been estimated as including $12,041 in 40 Granite City accounts and $10 in two Madison accounts.

Post offices no longer retain such funds, which stopped drawing 2½ percent interest in April. The government has made no provision for notifying account holders directly, nor have their identities been disclosed.

PROGRESSIVE DINNER, PROGRAM FOR TRI 4-H

On Monday, members of the Tri 4-H club attended a progressive luncheon and achievement program. The club is under the leadership of Mrs. Kathleen Tadlock.

The girls met in the home of Mrs. Tadlock, 1517 St. Clair avenue, at 11 a.m. and went to the home of Kathleen Whelan, 2176 Harrison avenue for appetizers and then to Kim Thompson's home, 4778 Nameoki road, for a salad course. Visiting Beverly Werner, 2809 Pershing avenue with Nancy Page assisting, they ate spaghetti and meat balls. For the vegetable service, they visited Gail Schubert, 2912 Fortuna drive.

Following the tour, they returned to the Tadlock home for a program. Miss Laura Tadlock, president, presided and introduced Nancy Page, who gave a demonstration on knitting, explaining casting, knit and purl and binding-off.

Kim Thompson gave a clarinet solo, followed by Laura Tadlock given a talk entitled, "Right Design And Color For You."

Gail Schubert and Laura Tadlock modeled dresses they will model at the Madison county fair in Highland.

A dessert course was served by Laura Tadlock and her mother to the members and their mothers.

The two dining tables were decorated with white milkglass dishes and fresh-cut red roses as centerpieces. White lace place mats and napkins inscribed with roses completed the table appointments. Favors were miniature ice cream chairs in pink and green velvet to be used as pin cushions later.

Others attending were Mesdames Alberta Schubert, Roberta Werner, Betty Thompson and Gordon Page. The next meeting will be held in September.

KRIZANS HONORED ON 40TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Mike F. Krizan were honored this week with a party in honor of their 40th wedding anniversary. Friends and relatives gathered at the VFW fellowship hall and were greeted by the honorees and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Steiner, brother-in-law and sister, hosts for the event.

A buffet supper was served from a table set in crystal complemented with ruby red and white. The room was decorated appropriately in red and white with flowers and gifts.

Mrs. Dorothy McInerney, a cousin of Mrs. Krizan, assisted with the opening of gifts, and dinner music was furnished by Mrs. Dona Randall.

Mr. and Mrs. Krizan, lifelong residents of the Quad-Cities, were married in St. Mary's Catholic Church, Madison, Ill., July 16, 1927. They now reside at 2525 Woodlawn avenue and have one son, James, of Granite City and two grandchildren, Jerry and Michael and Julie Ann. Mr. Krizan is a crane-man at Granite City Steel Co. and has been employed there for 41 years.

BRIDAL SHOWER HONORS MISS LINDA SCHRIEBER

A shower honoring Miss Linda Schrieber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Schrieber, 2109 Missouri avenue, who is to be married Aug. 4 to Airman 1/C Michael Birdsong, now in Tripoli, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Birdsong, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nickell, 2171 East 27th street. Hostess was Miss Kaye Nickell.

Games and prizes highlighted the party and gifts were received. The table was decorated with a large wedding bell, a bell and candle centerpiece and a wedding cake decorated with a ball.

Prize winners included Mrs. Sharon Hicks, Mrs. Wilma Dunahoe, Mrs. Sharon Passing and Mrs. Sandra Briley.

Others present were Mesdames Linda Ballentine, Anita Norton, Linda Smoey and Mildred Talley, Misses Eva Schrieber, Denise Stock, Linda Longbottom and Pat Oden, Mrs. Violet Nickell, Mrs. Rena Birdsong, mother of the prospective groom, and Mrs. Ruth Schrieber, mother of the bride-to-be.

Neighborhood Carnival

A neighborhood carnival to benefit muscular dystrophy victims will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at the St. Joseph playground, 2116 Edison avenue. Berntha Mae Decker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Decker, 1729 State street, will serve as ringmaster, assisted by Donna Krommby, Mary Burns, Diane Boyle and Mary Beasley. A book sale and raffle games are planned. Last year, over 12,600 such carnivals in the U. S. raised $23,800 for research and patient service.

Price Urges Dental Program For Dependents

A comprehensive dental care program for military personnel dependents was recommended Tuesday by Cong. Melvin Price at a House Armed Services subcommittee hearing on military health benefits.

Price, who has sponsored this legislation since the 86th Congress, urged his committee colleagues to view favorably his bill that would implement a broad-scale outpatient dental care program for military families. In doing so, the 4th-ranking member of the Armed Services Committee took issue with the delay that has occurred in enactment of a dental care plan.

Noting that hearings have been held periodically on proposals since 1956, when the basic military medical services program was instituted, Price said: "Today, 11 years later, we have gone no further despite our continuing concern with filling this void in the military health picture."

"I am perplexed by the fact that we have not followed through with the enactment of a program in view of the widespread recognition of its need."

ONE MORE SIT-UP—Michael R. McCarty, a Marine Corps Platoon Leader Class (PLC) candidate, executes a sit-up in the physical training phase of officer training at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va. McCarty, a senior attending Illinois State University at Normal, has taken part in the second of two six-week summer training sessions which lead to a commission in the Marine Corps upon receipt of a college degree. Providing training in academics, physical fitness and leadership, the PLC program enables a candidate to become an officer in the Marines upon graduation from college in much the same manner that the other branches of service provide a commission through the Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC). McCarty is the son of Mrs. John McCarty, 2101 Glen drive.

Army Depot

various structures at the local installation, including four-level concrete troop barracks built in 1953, each able to house 350 men; bachelor officers' and guest quarters; housing lanes; post theatre; headquarters building; undenominational chapel; and a golf course and swimming pool area.

Added to our most important mission of supplying and maintaining equipment needed by our fighting forces in Vietnam, at the present time the Depot has a total of 500 National Guardsmen and reserve units in training here," Col. Hoskin explained. Itemized by the commanding officer were several "tenant activities" at the local military base, such as the Forward Area Support, assigned from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., with responsibility for maintenance of area-wide Nike air defense units; Field Veterinary Food Inspector; Fifth Mobility Service; Army Materiel Command Customer Assistance Office; Area Utilization; and the Maintenance Unit.

New Unit Activities
Other tenant units located on the Post are the 50th Ordnance Detachment (Explosive Demolition Squad); U. S. Army Dispensary, providing medical service to military and civilian personnel; and the 650th Maintenance Company, recently activated and assigned here.

Additional Army units are expected to be activated shortly and assigned to the Depot, he said. Col. Hoskin told newsmen that federal anti-poverty programs are incorporated into the Depot's employment practices statistically rate the facility as "tops" in Department of the Army installations in promoting such programs. "And perhaps," he added, "the top employer of underprivileged youth in the U. S. Civil Service System."

Currently, 165 school dropouts are being trained at the Depot under the Neighborhood Youth Corps program; 133 in the Youth Opportunity Campaign, a project whereby in-school youths may earn money to continue their education; and ten enrolled in a newly devised Youth Opportunity Back-to-School project.

'New Careers' Program

The Depot commander reported the local military installation recently was selected to serve as a pilot program for the federal government's "New Careers" project, jointly sponsored by the Economic Opportunities Commission of St. Clair and Madison counties.

A $550,000 grant from the Bureau of Work Programs of the Department of Labor to train 135 Illinois residents for jobs in public and private social welfare agencies recently was approved.

Twenty-seven per cent of the Depot's 1350 civilian employees are non-white and 250 are women, Col. Hoskin said. Employees include seven mentally handicapped persons and 200 physically handicapped, he said.

He noted that the installation has a strong civilian organization union and became the first such federal establishment to process a grievance to its fullest extent in arbitration.

Col. Hoskin pointed with pride to attainment by GCAD employees of four million consecutive man-hours without a disabling injury, for which the Depot

The three-year enlistment of the 1966 GCHS graduate, who will be assigned to the Army artillery corps, was the last handled by Sfc. James E. Maddox (right), retiring to become a Farmers Insurance Group agent. Residing at 2578 Boyle avenue, the 20-year Army veteran has resided here six years and will make his home here permanently. His replacement, Sfc. Harold C. Pratte (left), recently returned from France and has been based at Fort Lee, Va.; he and his wife and two daughters are residing at the Granite City Army Depot.

Bi-State Agency Honors Townsend, Retired Chairman

C. E. Townsend, who retired recently as an Illinois commissioner and chairman of the Bi-State Development Agency, was honored at a dinner last night at the Missouri Athletic Club by present and former Agency commissioners with whom he had served during the past eight years. Robert Knapp, who succeeded Townsend as agency chairman, presented him with an engraved plaque bearing the official seal of the agency and the following inscription:

"Presented to C. E. Townsend in appreciation and recognition of his dedicated service as Commissioner 1959-1962, Vice-Chairman 1962-1965, Chairman 1965-1967, Bi-State Development Agency of the Missouri-Illinois Metropolitan District."

Knapp recalled that Townsend was one of 10 Illinois and Missouri gubernatorial appointees who, 18 years ago, created the Bi-State Agency, securing passage of the necessary legislation in the two states, with approval by Congress.

Townsend, editor and publisher of the Press-Record, urged the Agency commissioners to continue their dedicated civic service "for there is a great—and growing—need by the people of this metropolitan area for the kind of coordination you give and the kind of projects you can develop, none of which would conflict with the activities of other public bodies."

"Explore these possibilities, work with existing local governments and, since yours is sometimes a thankless job, above all retain your sense of humor. There is no salary or other remuneration, as we all know, but there is great satisfaction in service to the public."

Others who spoke, thanking Townsend for his service to the agency, included Admiral Sidney Sayers, commissioner from Missouri; Edwin M. Clark, former commissioner; and Edward S. Sayers, Illinois commissioner. About 25 attended the dinner.

Bi-State Agency is composed of five commissioners from Illinois and five from Missouri, all appointed by their governors.

School Board Changes Meeting to Saturday

The Granite City school board last night lacked a quorum and rescheduled its meeting for 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

President Monroe Wurthen, Dr. E. W. Walton, secretary, and Carl Macios informally discussed the agenda to be acted on Saturday. Four members are required for an official meeting.

Two Autos Collide

Autos driven by Donald Naev, 2304 St. Clair avenue, and Burl L. Porter, Troy, collided at 6:45 a.m. today at Niedringhaus and Madison avenues.

Naev, who spoke, thanked Townsend for his service to the agency, included Admiral Sidney Sayers, commissioner from Missouri; Edwin M. Clark, former commissioner; and Edward S. Sayers, Illinois commissioner. About 25 attended the dinner.

9 Persons Injured In 16 Mishaps In Quad-Cities

Nine persons were injured in 16 accidents which occurred on Quad-City area streets and highways this week.

Three persons were injured in an accident at 3:25 p.m. Wednesday at Route Three and Chain of Rocks road. Three autos were involved.

One driven by Harry J. Miller, 53, of St. Jacob, stopped before making a right turn onto Route Three. Another, driven by Charles C. Guth, 81, Rural Route Two, struck the left side of the car of Robert E. Fitzgerald, 38, of 3283 Westchester drive. The Fitzgerald auto then struck the Miller auto.

Fitzgerald was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for abrasions to forehead and was released. Miller and a passenger in his car, Morris Mascher, 43, Maryville, suffered minor injuries.

Two Women Injured

Two women were injured when an auto driven by George K. Wagner, 75 Gareche Homes, Madison, struck the rear of an other car driven by Mrs. Jeanne M. Delin, 30, or 2701 Center street, pushing it into the rear of a third car driven by Daisy N. Taylor, No. 7 Frontenac lane, at 1:15 p.m. Monday at 23rd street and Madison avenue.

Complaining of pains were Mrs. Delin and a passenger in her auto, Virgie Clark, 60, of 2803 Iowa street. The Delin and Taylor autos were stopped on Madison to permit another vehicle to make a left turn. Wagner was charged with following too closely.

Donald McKee, 28, St. Louis, declined treatment for injuries received in a highway auto accident early Tuesday. He was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital at 2:25 a.m. and was released.

Beagle Hound Shot

John Howling, Rural Route One, reported to the sheriff's office at 6:20 p.m. Wednesday that his beagle hound was shot and wounded late Saturday night or early Sunday while he was on vacation. The dog was being boarded by a neighbor at the time.

Mrs. Audrey Conrad, 3161 JHI avenue, was injured when her auto struck the rear of another car driven by John R. Vaughn, 2416 Roney drive, who had stopped to make a turn off Route 203 at the pedestrian crossing at the blast furnace division of Granite City Steel Co. at 6:10 a.m. today. Mrs. Conrad was to receive x-rays today at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Suffers Neck Pains

Terry Rochester, 20, of 2628 Madison avenue suffered neck pains when the rear of his auto was struck by another car driven by Gregory P. Shisko, 608 Kirkpatrick Homes, at 8:30 p.m. Monday as Rochester was waiting to turn into his driveway. The Shisko car, a 1966 Ford, was involved in an accident with a car driven by Raymond Tadlock, 1517 St. Clair avenue, at 3:50 p.m. Wednesday at 27th and Iowa streets. Henderson was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Donald McKee, 28, St. Louis, declined treatment for injuries received in a highway auto accident early Tuesday. He was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital at 2:25 a.m. and was released.

cities are adding the newly authorized one-quarter of 1% some are not. But in no case is the tax authorized for local extension collected by the state without local extension," Keyes emphasized.

He explained that if Granite City's sales tax figure was left at the one-half of 1% which was authorized for collection under the old sales tax law, the local collection would remain at that figure and the extra one-quarter of 1% would not be collected.

"In that case, sales tax collections in Granite City would be made on a rate of 4 1/2%," Keyes said.

Robertson Opposes Tax
Before discussing and voting on the tax issue, council members with 13 present, voted 12-1 to reconsider previous action in which the tax measures were rejected. Robertson cast the only dissenting vote.

Ignoring Robertson's plea to wait for a legal opinion on the matter, the council again voted 12-1 with Robertson still dissenting, to pass a motion by Nomm to suspend the rules and place the sales tax bill on final passage.

Robertson again cast the only dissenting vote on a final passage motion by Nomm.

On a motion by Nomm and a second by Alderman Sam Whitmer to suspend the rules for final passage of the sales tax measure, the council session was adjourned.

Changes Vote
"Is this another case where the state would collect and keep the tax if we don't approve it?" Several aldermen replied in the affirmative.

Green then withdrew his negative vote, changing it to "yes." This made an 11-2 vote for passage of the sales suspension motion.

Nomm then moved to place the service occupation tax bill on first reading, approved by the same vote of 11-2. The motion to pass also received the same vote.

The service occupation tax of one-quarter of 1% will apply to the gross charge of services in four categories.

These include: (a) manufacture of special machines, tools, dies, jigs or patterns; (b) graphic arts and related services not previously taxed, including commercial or custom photography, lithography and all other phases of the graphic arts; (c) repairing and renovation of tangible personal property such as radios, lawnmowers, refrigerators and appliances of all kinds, but not applying to real estate, since sales tax already is charged on lumber, cement and other supplies used for renovation of real estate property; and (d) drugs of prescription medicine.

Service Tax Revenue Indefinite
Total collection of a three-quarter-cent sales tax in Granite City during the city's current fiscal year is expected to produce revenue of $37,855.

The amount is $12,000 below the originally projected revenue of $39,850 due to the loss of the additional tax.

Since the city previously has not collected a service occupational tax, no estimate was available on the amount of expected income, although officials said they do not expect it to be substantial.

Ryan in Anti-Submarine Navy Convoy Exercise

Commissary man Seaman Thomas E. Ryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Ryan of 3865 Lake street, Granite City, is participating in a 14-day anti-submarine and convoy protection exercise named "Sea Dog" off the coast of Thailand, as a Navy crew member aboard the anti-submarine warfare aircraft carrier U.S.S. Hornet.

A 34-ship armada from six Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) countries is facing air and submarine attacks by an "enemy" who is attempting to cut off supplies to the combat area. The exercise force includes two aircraft carriers, 12 destroyers and escorts, 13 minesweepers, three minelayers, two fleet oilers.

More than 100 carrier and shore-based aircraft from five of the participating nations are performing air strike, reconnaissance, anti-submarine patrol and mine laying missions. Participating countries include Australia, New Zealand, Philippines, Thailand, the United Kingdom and the United States.

Project Uplift Upgrading Low Achievers In Special Madison Instructional Program

By ANDREW WILSON

What may be one of the most challenging and rewarding special-help educational projects ever launched in the Quad-City area has completed its first full year of operation.

The anniversary was reached as the noon bell sounded the end of summer school for 789 students in the Madison school district.

Part of a federally subsidized program to "help low achievers in low-income areas," Madison's Project Uplift provided year-long tutorial assistance in reading and arithmetic to students in grades one through 12.

The guiding conviction behind the project, as expressed by a Madison school administrator, Donald Purkale, is that closer and more intimate attention on the part of the teachers to the problems encountered by youngsters would be the surest way to close the gap between their potential and their performance as students.

Backing the project was a federal grant of $125,744 and an appropriation approximately double that amount from the Madison school district.

Clerks, Equipment, Teachers The money went into hiring clerical aids to free the teachers from time-consuming paper work; into buying new educational equipment, such as tape reorders and movie projector type reading aids; and into paying the teachers for working over into Madison's first summer of classes.

During the regular school year, the students in Project Uplift stayed an hour after the usual school day had ended and studied in small classes that they had been unable to keep pace with in larger classes.

For the students who were still behind at the end of the school year, summer school courses were offered, subject to parental consent, from 8 a.m. to noon, June 7 until July 17.

Dramatic Progress

The results of test taken at the beginning and the end of the school year all indicate that the children made far greater progress in this school year than in any other.

Not surprisingly, the progress was most dramatic in the lower grades, where more students were enrolled and were at an age, Purkale said, at which their minds were "most malleable and educable."

In Harris school's second grade, close to a third of the students who had been below the national norm on standardized tests for reading comprehension were brought up to or above that norm by May.

In the third grade at Harris, the percentage of students below the norm in reading comprehension decreased from 87.3% to 70.7%, while at Blair's third grade this percentage dropped even more steeply, from 64.7 to 39.7%.

Purkale had high praise for the teachers. "The teachers have made the whole project go," he said.

"From the beginning they have been willing to put in the extra time and effort needed to make this project a success."

Early Problems Recalled

In the spring of 1966 before federal funds were available, Purkale said, the teachers worked overtime tutoring students and bought special educational materials out of their own money.

"But the single most significant factor which gives us great hope for this project in the future has been the enthusiastic response of the students themselves," said Purkale.

"Students who had scored and distilled the whole idea of school have actually come around to enjoying it and being excited by it."

Discipline Improves

"The teaching staff in this regard has reported a lessening of discipline problems with the students in the project."

Tardiness and absenteeism went down for these students (attendance at the summer school was 98%), and former trouble-makers were less prone to cut up," he said.

Any of the children in Project Uplift was Timmy, a third grader at Harris school. Timmy acted "big and tough" on the playground and made a nuisance of himself there, in the classroom, he was resentful and unsure of himself.

He had a hard time mastering new material in general, and an especially hard time in keeping up with rest of his class in reading.

At summer school, he fell under the stern but concerned hand of a woman teacher.

Reading Control Device

With constant attention and the help of an ingenious teaching device called the Control Reader—which flashes single words from left to right across and so forces the student to read in the correct fashion—he succeeded in convincing Timmy that he could do the work if he only tried.

At the end of the summer session, his reading comprehension, which had been at a first grade level in the beginning of the year, had jumped well up into the third grade level. As a result, he will be able to start with his age group in fourth grade this fall.

The case of Timmy and many other students like him have made Project Uplift a special point of pride for the Madison school district.

Miss Gibson, Retired Cafeteria Head, Dies

Funeral services were held early this week in Woodstock, Ill., for Miss Mable Gibson, 82, of that community, a former teacher and cafeteria director for many years at Granite City high school.

In failing health with cancer for some time, Miss Gibson was a patient at a Woodstock nursing home several weeks before her death July 22. The past few years, she had lived with a sister, Mrs. Roy Reece of Woodstock.

Born in Woodstock on March 28, 1885, Miss Gibson began her teaching career at Mason, Ill., in 1915. Prior to joining the local school district in 1924, she also taught for seven years at Clinton, Ill.

Between 1924 and the mid-1940s, Miss Gibson served as home economics teacher at Granite City high school, later accepting the post of cafeteria director, a position she held until 1959. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Hadaller Recovering

Mrs. Florence Hadaller, 2457 Benton street, is recovering at St. Elizabeth Hospital from injuries sustained in a fall at her home the past week.

2962 Visit County's Museum in 6 Months

A total of 2962 persons visited the Madison county museum at Edwardsville during the first six months of the year, it was reported by Mrs. Ruby C. Harris, superintendent.

Included were 1900 regular visitors and 1062 pupils and adults. Thirty-four schools or troops toured the museum.

Visitors came from Illinois, Texas, Michigan, Indiana, Missouri, Massachusetts, California, Arizona, Ohio, Tennessee, Washington, Pennsylvania, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Utah, Hawaii, New Jersey, Iceland and England.

Thirty-one "friends of the museum" volunteers assisted 185 times, and 13 Junior Cadets assisted 30 times.

Items contributed to the museum during the period included 11 books, 12 pieces of furniture and kitchen supplies, four pictures, one photo, one dish, five newspapers, manuscripts and clippings, three pieces of clothing and 21 miscellaneous items.

Staff members contributed to three programs within the county, showed Lincoln films to 20 schools and groups, provided historic information assistance requested from 55 persons by visit or correspondence, and furnished three exhibits.

Semi-Monthly Payroll

Tax Deposits Explained

Employers who were liable for payroll taxes in excess of $500 for any month in the preceding calendar quarter are required to make semi-monthly deposits for payroll taxes.

They must deposit the second semi-monthly payment for July on or before Aug. 3. Jay C. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois, said this week.

Employers not required to make semi-monthly deposits for payroll taxes and who have more than $100 in such taxes for the month of July must deposit these funds on or before Aug. 15. All employers should use Forms 450 in making the deposits in a Federal Reserve Bank or an authorized commercial bank, Philpott said.

2 Apartment Buildings To Be Built In Venice

Construction of two four-family apartment buildings in Venice, Ill., to cost $18,000 each, has been authorized by the Venice city council in approving a building permit issued to William Radman, 415 Madison avenue.

The new apartment units will be built on a two-lot tract at 212 3rd street. Each unit will contain four one-bedroom apartments. Radman said construction will start immediately.

A building permit also was granted to Tim Bennett, 1124 Calhoun street, for a one-room frame addition to cost $800, to Maryann Langston, 519 Jefferson street, for a one-room frame addition to cost $1000.

Adapt Driving to Turnpike Rules

"If you are driving by the rules you learned more than a decade ago, you are an old-fashioned driver," Raymond Christman, president of the Quad-Cities Safety Council, said today. "That is, when you're driving on a turnpike or expressway," he explained.

With about half of the Interstate highways completed and open to traffic, more drivers, accustomed to the older type roads, will be venturing forth on these new high-speed turnpikes every day. These roads are safer, but they can't be used in the same way as the older highways—and some of the older safety rules must be left behind at the cloverleaf.

Christman gave the following set of rules for safer driving on turnpikes or expressways:

1. Check your car before long trips on the expressway. Make sure you have plenty of gas, oil and water. More than half of the emergency calls on expressways result from running out of gas or oil and lack of enough fluid in the radiator.
2. While in the entry ramp and acceleration lane, match the speed of traffic and blend right into the traffic stream when traffic gaps permit.
3. Watch for Right Exit. Know your exit and be ready to leave when you get to it. If you miss an exit, you must go on to the next one.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., July 27, 1967 Page 27

4. Do not stop in the traffic lanes or back up. In an emergency pull as far onto the shoulder as you can get.

5. Use turn signals and check to the rear before changing lanes. Make sure the lane you are about to enter is free of traffic. Check that blind spot over your left shoulder. Don't depend on your rear view mirrors entirely.

6. Remember, on the turnpike the slowpoke is as dangerous as the speeder. If you can't keep up, keep off the pile.

7. The old rule of one car length behind for each ten miles an hour of speed is not enough. Double it. At 70 mph, you will need at least 532 feet to stop.

8. Be alert to conditions at all times. Expressways allow no mistakes or second guesses. Read every sign so you will know what's ahead.

Keller farm near Edwardsville, soft wheat averaged 53.3 bushels and hard wheat 41.6 bushels.

Yield of each soft wheat variety in the Keller plot was Benhur 56.2 bushels per acre, Riley 55.5, Stadler 54.8, Monon 53.1, Knox (62) 50.2, and Vermillion 49.9. Hard wheat yields were Triumph 48.2, Ottawa 46.6, Scout 43.1, Pawnee 37.7, and Gage 32.4.

Soft wheat variety yields at Bergmann-Taylor were Benhur 64.9, Knox (62) 62.8, Monon 55.3, and Riley 52.6. Hard wheat yields were Triumph 56.7, Scout 51.7, Pawnee 48.1, and Gage 43.1.

Soft wheats usually yield more than hard wheats in this area.

Farmers are cautioned against using the results from only one of their organization meeting for the new year starting July 1.

Members of the Madison county Agricultural Extension Council at their organization meeting for the new year starting July 1 elected Richard E. Ellis Jr., St. Jacob, chairman; Carl Baumann, Givlio, Alton; Melvin H. Highland, vice-chairman; and George Holt, Edwardsville; Robert Johnson, Dorsey; William Keller, Collinsville; Leslie Knebel, Poca; Rudy Kutin, New Douglas; and Marvin L. Stille, Alhambra.

Other members of the council which supervises the agricultural extension program in the county are Carl Eberhart, Edwardsville; Merle Espenchied, Marine; Gordon G. Gass, Edwardsville; Donald A. Gusewille, Worden; Ben Rayburn, assistant farm advisor.

Four-H activities Monday will include the dairy show at 10 a.m. in the show barn. General project exhibits, such as handicraft, electricity, etc., will be on display in the dance hall. The 4-H tractor operators' contest and 4-H dog obedience show both begin at 2 p.m.

Tuesdays 4-H events include the swine show at 9 a.m., sheep show at 11 a.m. and beef show at 1 p.m.

Four-H horses highlight Wednesday's activities, with horses and ponies being judged at 10 a.m. and the big 4-H horse show at 1 p.m. in the arena.

Fair activities begin Sunday, July 24, with an interfaith worship service at 7:30 p.m. Major fair events will continue each night through Saturday night.

Open classes of livestock and other exhibits will be judged Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Copies of the fair book are available at the farm advisor's office and at the fair office in Highland.

Clipping legume-grass pastures will improve forage quality and also help control weeds.

In pasture mixes, the grasses often grow rank and tend to crowd out the legumes.

Clipping excess growth gives the legumes a better chance to grow.

Cattle are apt to graze even a well-managed pasture unevenly. As the unbeaten grasses and legumes mature, they become low in feeding value and unpalatable.

Clipping the mature forage growth allows the pasture to recover at uniform rate with young, tasty plant growth.

Mosquito Warning

Because mosquitoes are disease-carrying agents, be wary of them, especially in this season, warns Jack Hayes, researcher at Dixon Springs.

Encephalitis or "sleeping sickness" is one of the mosquito-borne diseases that the University of Illinois has been studying in several southern Illinois communities and in St. Louis. The mosquito carrying the encephalitis virus is an urban mosquito, living in close association with polluted waters and man's wastes.

To reduce mosquito problems, follow these steps:

Empty standing water in poorly drained eave troughs, old tires, children's toys and other objects.

Spray shrubbery, tall grass and storm sewer walls with 1.5% malathion. Mix three ounces of 50-57% emulsion concentrate per gallon of water.

Hang 2x16-inch plastic resin strips containing 20% dichlorvos (DDVP, Vapona). Use one strip per 1000 cubic feet of space, or about one strip per room. These strips will kill mosquitoes and flies for four to six weeks.

Spray Foundation Wall

If you sprayed the outside foundation wall of your house in May to control crawling insects, you'll need another application now.

Ants, spiders, sowbugs roaches and other crawling insects are still entering homes.

Spray the foundation of your house to the point of runoff from the soil to the soil with either 2% chlordane or 1/2% dieldrin. Also spray two or three inches of soil next to the foundation wall.

Battery Charge Filed

Bieniecki Defends Air Pollution Amendment

If the people of Granite City want abatement of air pollution "the job will have to be done locally" with local control and home rule, Henry S. Bieniecki, chairman of the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board, told the city council Monday night in a statement challenging recent charges of the Manufacturers' Association of the Tri-Cities.

Bieniecki said in a letter presented to the council as a communication during the regular meeting that recent statements by William F. Hoelscher, executive secretary of the manufacturers' association were incorrect in implying that the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board misrepresented a recent ordinance amendment adopted by the council.

Hoelscher claimed that the amendment to the air pollution control ordinance adopted a month ago was approved by a majority of the council in the belief that the changes adjusted the local ordinance to conform with state control regulations.

He further maintained that this impression was misleading because the city ordinance, as amended, applies the basic weight table of emissions to all industries generally, while the state regulation fixes separate specific emission requirements for the heavy metals industry.

Impossible to Comply
Hoelscher said the Granite City ordinance will make it impossible for a number of area industries to comply with the local regulations and will place those industries in the position of being "noncooperative" at the local level.

Bieniecki told the council that "the board's position was clearly and positively established in February 1967, when it recommended adoption by the council of the standards and rules incorporated in the model ordinance of the Interstate (Air) Study."

"I want to clearly state my support for the new regulations. A definite majority of the board concurs in this support."

"The regulation changes were developed on the basis of a study made by the technical secretary of the board comparing the original (city) ordinance, the state regulations and the Interstate study . . . the final draft being made by the city attorney incorporating suggestions from board members as well as the technical secretary."

The board chairman pointed out that the special, more lenient standards for certain industries referred to by Hoelscher as a section of the state regulations was dropped by the local board "because these standards were severely criticized by Robert French of the state staff at one of the first board meetings in 1965 and the original air pollution control ordinance was first passed."

Provided for Modifications

He said the Illinois law recommends that provision be made in local ordinances for alterations, additions or modifications to meet the basic weight rules eventually to be required by the state board.

"If the Illinois board is acting in good faith," Bieniecki said, then the detail differences in the two sets of rules essentially disappear, and the issue becomes one of diligence and conscientious promotion of effective abatement programs on a reasonable schedule.

"The Granite City board requires flexibility to work out schedules specifically for Granite City."

In this connection, the board chairman continued, the Granite City board has been informed that there are only five engineers on the state staff and they currently are engaged in processing responses to an emissions survey from 10,000 companies in Illinois.

"Within a year," he said, "they (the state board) will be deluged with thousands of plans for abatement programs from these companies."

"Even with the best of intentions and the best of regulations it is unlikely that this small staff can promote effective abatement anywhere in the state in a reasonable time."

Must Be Done Locally
"It is our view that if the people of Granite City want abatement of air pollution, the job will have to be done locally, and local control and home rule, if it is responsible and conscientious, is in the best tradition of our country."

Bieniecki added that he feels Granite City has a control board that is responsible and conscientious, both with respect to industry and the residents of the community.

"I assure you," he told the council, "the board plans no precipitous action."

"We are well aware that installation of air pollution control equipment by industry required the expenditure of significant sums of money and that equipment must be carefully engineered."

"We are primarily concerned that the long-range approach is suited to the most reasonably expeditious abatement that can be achieved consistent with the protection of the normal health and general welfare of the people, and maximum employment and proper industrial development."

Farrington Injured in Crash Fatal to Woman

Donald Farrington, 63, Edwardsville, president of Farrington Motors in Granite City, was injured slightly in a head-on collision in which an O'Fallon woman was killed Monday on Route 159 south of Edwardsville.

Dead on arrival at Wood River Township Hospital was Mrs. Evelyn E. Schalter, 63. Police said she swerved her auto to avoid another two-car accident but moved directly into Farrington's traffic lane. He was treated by a physician for bruises.

Speeding Charge Filed

A speeding charge was filed against Jo Ann Zorn, 1603 Kirkpatrick Homes, at 1:15 a.m. Tuesday at Niedringhaus and Madison avenues.

Maryville Road Much Improved; Still Not the Connecting Artery That It Could Become

WHERE IT BEGINS—This view north from Terminal avenue shows Maryville road at its present southern terminus. Extensive work would be needed for it to be extended farther south; it would have to intersect or cross over a series of railroad tracks in order to reach East 23rd street.

WHERE IT ENDS—Maryville road curves to the northeast beyond the Maryville railroad crossing at a point immediately north of Nameoki road and comes to an end in Mitchell upon reaching the Chain of Rocks road (pictured above). All scenes on this page are Press-Record staff photographs.

Maryville Road Widened by City and County

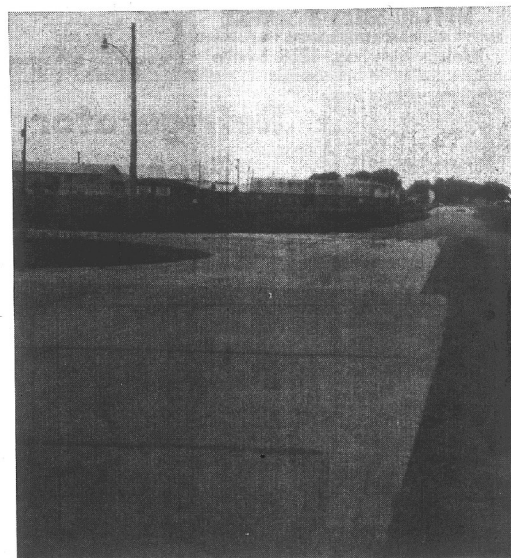

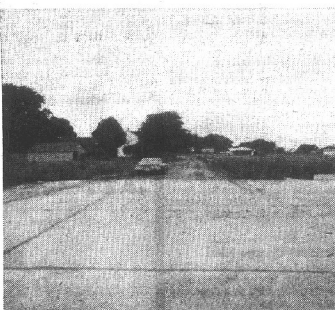

WIDENING AND NEW LINKS have focused new attention on the role of Maryville road as a major new north-south traffic artery in the Quad-Cities.

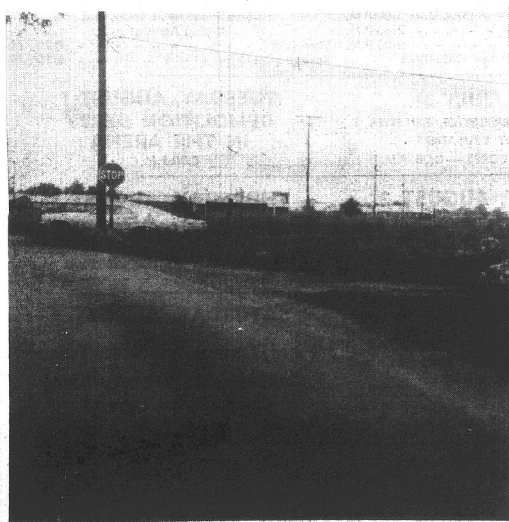

The above scene shows the four-lane concrete section that begins at Pontoon road (foreground) and extends north through a three-block Granite City area (4000, 4100 and 4200 blocks) and a longer section of unincorporated territory. The widening work was carried out by Madison county and the city.

The view at left, taken from the railroad crossing area newly equipped with warning lights and gates, shows part of the residential area north of Route 205.

Remaining Problems and Possibilities Pictured

EXTENDING MARYVILLE ROAD all the way from Terminal avenue to the Chain of Rocks road appears theoretically possible, but obstacles remain to be overcome. At the left, the car is traveling west on Buenger Blvd. and in the foreground is a winding road that connects Maryville road with Clark avenue at the end of Buenger; Maryville road if extended would go to the right of the homes visible in the background.

The lower picture shows where the street would go if built south from Pontoon road toward Buenger.

At right is an example of the narrow curving roadway currently in use west of the Wilshire Manor area. Maryville road could be straightened, widened, paved and fully connected if city, township and county authorities give high priority to such a project.

IMPROVING TV RECEPTION

In local classrooms is the goal of this special two-man technical field crew activated this summer by the St. Louis Educational Television Commission.

The crew, consisting of Randy Schwering (left) and Les Dace, is measuring the field strength of the Channel 9 signal at various school locations in Missouri and Illinois and making recommendations to school administrators regarding specifications for most effective antenna, distribution and a receiving systems for installation in participating schools.

KETC's increase of in-school telecourse to a total of 41 for 1967-68 has resulted in a rapid growth in the number of participating school systems. The KETC reception consultation service is available at no cost to participating schools. Channel 9's director of engineering, Jack Vines, reports.

City Red Changes to Black With $500,000 Tax Receipts

A half-million-dollar tax distribution to Granite City was announced yesterday by City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich.

The allocation came at a time when the city was facing critical financial problems induced by the long delay in adoption of a new budget, mounting deficits in general fund accounts and almost complete depletion of the city's sales tax reserve fund.

It also followed within a few days the announcement by Rich that hereafter he will sign no checks against any city fund that shows a deficit.

This is a departure from past procedure by which the treasurer's office continued to sign checks against depleted accounts until the deficit grew to a sizable figure, which then was retired by a transfer of funds from one of the reserve accounts such as the sales tax, parking meter or working cash funds.

Must Have Balance

Hereafter, Rich told city finance officials, he will honor no bills approved by the city council unless the accounts from which the bills are to be paid have a cash balance.

He said he learned recently that the previous method of signing checks against deficit accounts was in violation of state statutes.

"The way we have operated in the past is not in accordance with the law," Rich said, adding that "we've been sitting here doing it all wrong... but not any more."

As of June 30, a report by City Comptroller Robert Stevenson showed an overall deficit of $85,033 in the 17 accounts of the general fund, with ten specific accounts in the red.

During July, however, $120,000 was transferred out of the $237,072 balance in the sales tax fund to retire the deficits and provide enough balance to pay July bills.

The city also has a $106,412 deficit in the fund for maintenance of sewers, a deficit that will have to be retired by a further fund transfer soon as a result of Rich's new check-signing policy. A number of bills already have accrued against this fund, but they will not be paid until the deficit is retired and a balance made available.

Near Budget Deadline

While the $500,000 tax distribution by the treasurer yesterday will afford immediate relief, the money represents part of the income on which city officials are now basing their new budget and appropriation ordinance, not yet passed.

The city must adopt the appropriation bill this month. The present fiscal year began May 1. City officials have pointed out that the new appropriation takes into account every penny of potential income, including projected additional income from extension of an additional one-quarter-cent city sales tax.

Overall potential income for the current year includes $1,000,008 in property taxes, almost half of which is represented in the $500,000 distribution.

Questions and answers about Freedom Shares—the new way for Americans to help their country as they help themselves.

Q. What are Freedom Shares?

A. They are the new U.S. Savings Notes—a companion product to the Series E Savings Bonds.

Q. Who may buy Freedom Shares?

A. Any individual who purchases Series E Bonds regularly through a formal plan—either Payroll Savings where he works or Bond-a-Month where he banks.

Q. What is the interest rate on Freedom Shares?

A. 4.74% compounded semiannually, when held to maturity of 4½ years. The rate is less if redeemed prior to maturity; and they may not be redeemed for at least one year.

Q. Does this same rate now apply to E Bonds?

A. No. E Bonds continue to return an average of 4.15% when held to their seven-year maturity.

Q. What do Freedom Shares cost?

A. They are issued in face amounts of $25, $50, $75, and $100. Purchase prices are $20.25, $40.50, $60.75, and $81.00.

Q. Can Freedom Shares be bought by themselves?

A. No. They must be bought in conjunction with E Bonds of the same or larger face amounts. For example, a $25 Freedom Share may be bought with a $25 E Bond, when on a regular plan. The total price would be $39 ($20.25 for the Freedom Share and $18.75 for the Bond).

Q. Can I buy as many Freedom Shares as I want, as long as I buy E Bonds of the same or larger amounts?

A. No. On Payroll Savings, Freedom Share deductions are limited to $20.25 per weekly pay period, $40.50 per bi-weekly or semi-monthly pay period.

Q. How will the Freedom Shares be registered?

A. Registration must be identical with the E Bonds bought in combination.

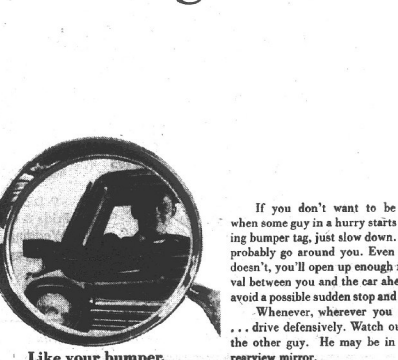

Q. Are Freedom Shares subject to taxation?

A. The same as E Bonds. Interest is subject to Federal income tax, which may be deferred until maturity or redemption (whichever comes first). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes. Current values are subject to estate, inheritance, gift, and other excise taxes, both Federal and state.

Q. Will Freedom Shares be extended beyond maturity, as E Bonds have been?

A. No. Under existing law, there is no provision for extension.

Flower Gardens May Be Affected By Hot Weather

By Wayne B. Siefert
Area Advisor,
Ornamental Horticulture,
St. Clair and Madison Counties

Roses seem to run out of gas in hot weather.

Improper pruning may slow up their recovery and summer time efforts.

Hybrid teas and floribundas need pruning to remove the spent flowers. If not pruned, energy is wasted producing seed, when it can be diverted to new growth.

When flower petals drop on the last flower, these spent flowers should be pruned off. If new shoots are not evident, prune back to the first five-leaflet leaf.

When long stems occur and you wish to reduce the size of the plant, cut above the second five-leaflet leaf from the bottom of the stem. This is the rule when cutting bouquets; leave at least one five-leaflet leaf.

Harbinger of Future
Everblooming climbers are also at a low point. Many new shoots are appearing, while the old canes are standing still. These new shoots are next year's insurance of profuse bloom.

The old canes should gradually be removed, or immediately removed if they are not developing new flowers.

Often the old wood produces new flowering wood near the ground, while the tops gradually decline. Continual pruning will gradually remove the old wood and stimulate flower development on the lower branches. Do not prune off suckers because they are not flowering. These are next year's flowering canes.

Spring blooming ramblers should have been pruned in late June. If you have not gotten to this task, then you can benefit your plants by removing all the old wood. Save the new shoots.

Where large bushes occur, completely remove the rose from the trellis. The new shoots will be easy. The old canes will have to be pruned off.

Don't be alarmed at what you have done. The old wood must be removed to promote good growth of the new canes (suckers) and next year's flowers.

I use string and paper coated wires (twist-ums) to fasten the new canes back on the trellis.

Tomato Blossom End Rot
Blossom end rot plagues home gardeners again, reports Chris Doll, area horticulturist, Edwardsville.

Rotting of the flower end is typical of this problem. Doll reports this is due to a calcium deficiency. The severity depends on the variety, method of culture, weather and location. Staked tomatoes usually are worse.

Symptoms appear when the fruits are half grown. It starts as a small water-soaked spot on the blossom end and enlarges to a dry, sunken, flattened hard area.

Any condition that reduces the ability of the roots to take up water (that contains soluble calcium salts) may lead to the disease. This includes root diseases or insects, drought, overfertilization, root pruning through cultivation and soil compaction.

Doll suggests these steps for next year's planting: Select your best drained soil. Apply fertilizers and lime according to a soil test. Avoid deep cultivation after fruits are set. Maintain a uniform soil moisture.

Some varieties are more susceptible to blossom end rot than others. Varieties with some resistance are Manhattan, Manalucie, Manapul, Morton Hybrid and Pink Deal.

Lawn Webworm
Are you beginning to see quite a few buff colored moths in your lawn in the evening? These are lawn webworm moths.

Webworm damage to lawns usually occurs in early August when the insect buildup is at the peak. But the damage is related to the number of insects as well as the condition of the lawn.

When grass is growing, insects cause a minimum of damage. Webworm is like a goat; they chew off the grass at the crown. When there is lots of grass (growth), damage is modest. When the grass is not growing, the goat (webworm) keeps on feeding and chews down the plant to the crown. A vigorous turf (watered) will support a lot of worms without much loss.

The present pattern suggests webworm will hit their peak in early August.

The only way to decide whether you have a problem is to look for the chewing, and the webworms. Look for nibbled off plants—not dead plants, but live ones chewed off at the crown.

Green leaf sections can be found in nearby tunnels in the thatch. That is one webworm. If you find more than two per square foot, then treatment is necessary.

A single spray application of Carbyl (Sevin), Dieldrin or Trichloron (Dylox) will control this pest, if they are present. The hose-attached sprayer is very effective, if you apply enough chemical to every part of the lawn.

Gen. Besson, Commander of Army Materiel Command, Praises GC Depot as Outstanding

Gen. Frank S. Besson Jr., commanding general of the United States Army Materiel Command, Washington, D. C., this week sent his personal congratulations to Granite City Army Depot personnel on the occasion of the installation's silver anniversary observance.

A transcript of the recorded message received at the Depot follows:

"It is a distinct honor to join in your celebration, and extend to the personnel of the Granite City Army Depot congratulations from the Army Materiel Command for 25 years of service to our armed forces.

"As you celebrate the silver anniversary of Granite City Army Depot, you should be proud of the Depot's outstanding record of effective, timely service year after year.

"Today, Granite City is playing an important role in the effective support of our combat forces in Vietnam. You have provided heavy construction equipment, generators and electronic and topographic equipment which were urgently needed during the early days of the Vietnam buildup.

"With the help of the dedicated civilian and military work force of Granite City Army Depot, and your outstanding supply, repair, rebuilding, packaging, and related activities, the Army Materiel Command has been successful in meeting the challenging and unprecedented logistical requirements of Southeast Asia.

"Granite City Army Depot has received praise and recognition, not only for meeting its varied and important missions, but also for its enlightened adherence to and strengthening the good will which exists between the Depot and the communities of Granite City, Madison and Venice.

"I salute all of you at the Depot for your loyalty, your dedication, and for your quarter century of progress and achievement. I know that your future contributions in meeting the hardware requirements of our combat forces will be equally impressive.

"Best wishes to all of you, and sincere appreciation for all that you have accomplished."

The Army Materiel Command's top military officer is responsible for a network of 86 military installations and 97 activities engaged in developing, producing, supplying and maintaining weapons, equipment and other materiel for the U. S. Army.

The command operates with a $2.2 billion inventory and an annual expenditure of $7.1 billion. It directly employs 18,000 military and approximately 150,000 civilian personnel.

Proposals by Treasurer in Dispute With Comptroller Are Accepted by City Council

Concurrence in a series of recommendations advanced by City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich to resolve differences between his office and that of City Comptroller Robert Stevens over administration of the city's nine separate sewer fund accounts was voted by the city council Monday night with only one dissenting vote.

On a motion by Alderman Ford Johnson, the council also authorized steps to recover $1482 in an apparent overpayment. Rich says the overpayment was made by the comptroller's office in distributing regular construction payments to a contractor who did work on sewer projects.

Payments to Subdividers
Rich also told the council that "in other situations, repayments have been made to subdividers when there is no record of the overpayment on file to support this payment."

Stevens explained that the overpayment of $1482 was the result of an error originating in the quarterly payment made to a contractor during the administration of the late City Comptroller John Doher. Stevens said he also made several quarterly payments on the same basic payment program established by his predecessor, but when the payments were shut off when it was discovered the contract had been overpaid.

Payment Totaled $5083
Stevens told the Press-Record that a total payment of $5083 was paid to a contractor whose bill was $3801.

In a five-page statement in which he reviewed the dispute between the two finance offices, Rich recommended:

1. That the comptroller be directed to turn over to the treasurer the checks on the sewer funds so that they can be prepared and executed by the treasurer's office.

2. That a series of 28 ordinances governing sewer fund operation be amended to conform with one of the two original sewer fund ordinances that place responsibility for administration of the sewer funds upon the treasurer's office.

3. That the comptroller be directed to turn the bond registry for revenue bonds over to the treasurer so that he may keep the same, as provided by law.

4. That the comptroller be directed to furnish the treasurer with copies of the contracts on the various extension funds to justify the reimbursements to the subdividers.

To Follow Recommendations
By its action Monday night the council carried out the recommendations in addition to seeking recovery of the $1482 overpayment.

Rich said that it is possible the money may be recovered by deducting it from funds which the city still owes the contractor. He said, however, that this would have to be by agreement with the contractor.

Rich said he has maintained for the past two years that as treasurer he is fully responsible for collecting, administering and disbursing all city monies in accordance not only with state laws, but as well under the terms of the original ordinances for the Nemo sewer construction.

Several years before he took office, Rich explained, the job of billing and collecting sewer rental fees, keeping books and making payments on the sewer fund, which eventually grew into nine separate accounts, was given to the comptroller's office, although the basic sewer ordinances placed this responsibility in the treasurer's office.

Only Deposited Funds
When he first became treasurer, he continued, he merely accepted money from the treasurer's office for deposit in the bank.

He said it was called to his attention by Leo Konzen, the assistant city attorney, that the practice did not conform to mandating systems of the city ordinances 1518 and 137, the bond ordinance and rate ordinance for the original Nemo sewer project.

Under the ordinances, Rich said, the treasurer was required to keep the bonds, maintain a bond registry, collect and deposit all revenues, maintain a primary system of accounts and records showing the amounts of revenues received and the application of revenues and all financial transactions, and to account monthly to the council for his actions.

Rich said he brought the matter to the attention of the mayor and city council's finance committee in December 1965.

He said he advised them that he had no objection to placing the sewer fund administration in the comptroller's office, but that if the ordinances were not changed he would insist on the mandatory language of the ordinance.

Brought Matter to Head
"It was not until February 1967, at which time the city treasurer's office, in order to bring the matter to a head, refused to accept any sewer monies from the comptroller's office that the situation was corrected to a certain extent by placing the collection of the sewer funds in the treasurer's office," Rich said.

Rich said the matter of getting a dual set of books, one by the treasurer and one by the comptroller, as requested by the city council, is not the issue involved.

The treasurer said he formerly turned such records over to the comptroller's office for a second set of books by the comptroller, but that he discontinued the practice when he was unable to get the sewer fund checks from the comptroller's office.

During council discussion of Johnson's motion to concur in Rich's recommendation, Alderman Paul Rutledge described the dispute between Rich and Stevens as "the most petty thing I have ever seen in Granite City."

Rutledge, who is chairman of the finance committee, pointed out to the council that the same argument came up more than a year ago.

Revised Laws Voted Down
"At that time," he said, "the city attorney spent six months revising the laws, just as Rich is talking about here, and when we brought them in you council members voted them down."

Alderman Steve Basarich cast the only "no" vote on the recommendation to place the sewer fund administration in the treasurer's office.

The office of city treasurer is an elective position. The city comptroller is appointed by the mayor.

Whether patronage is a factor in the dispute has not been a part of the discussions. Size of the two office staffs depends to an extent on the workload that must be carried out.

Waterway Firms City Bills of $23,662 Oppose Tow Size Limit in South

The American Waterways Operators, Inc., this week requested the New Orleans District Engineer to rescind a proposal to amend the Navigation Regulations to limit the size of tows operating on the Mississippi River in and through New Orleans harbor; or in the event he declines to do so, to hold a public hearing on the matter.

The proposed amendments to the Navigation Regulations, which were issued by the New Orleans District Engineer on July 7 in the Navigation Bulletin No. 67-19, states that "tows in excess of 16 barges, or greater than 140 feet wide and 800 feet long, whichever is less, exclusive of the towing vessel, shall not navigate the reach of the Mississippi River in New Orleans Harbor between the entrance to Harvey Canal, Mile 95.2 ABP, and Saxton Light, Mile 86.0 ABP."

However towing in the harbor area would be prohibited when the Carrollton Gate is eight feet or higher. Shallow-draft navigation (12 feet or less) would be barred from using the deep-draft channels in the Southwest Passes.

The AWO's request to rescind the proposed changes was contained in a letter dated July 19 to Col. Thomas J. Bowen, New Orleans District Engineer, which read in part as follows:

"These proposed restrictions—industry-wide in scope and application—are advanced at a time when the towboat, tugboat, and barge industry is striving to achieve a more efficient and economical operation for the ultimate benefit of the consuming public."

"One of the means utilized to accomplish this is the construction and operation of larger and more powerful towing vessels capable of handling a greater number of barges."

Local Locks
"The proposed tow length limitation affects many of our members who have been operating barges and towboats on the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway and the Mississippi River System designed to make maximum effective use of the 1200-foot locks on the Upper Mississippi and Ohio Rivers."

"The net effect of the imposition of these proposed restrictions would be to increase the cost of barge transportation to both the operator and the shipper. Thus, some traffic could be lost, which in turn would have a detrimental effect on the utilization of our nation's shallow-draft navigation channels."

"For these reasons we must object to these proposed changes."

Claims also included one for $10,406 by National Disposal Service for waste disposal, and $891 by Clarence Whitford for cutting weeds from June 16 to July 12. A total claim of $400 representing $25 monthly expenses for each of the city's 16 aldermen also was approved.

Bills of $642 against the sewer maintenance account were approved, although this fund now has a $106,000 deficit. The bills included $207 for Southwestern Bell Telephone and $435 for the Illinois Power Co.

An A. H. Seebold Co. claim for $1265 as payment for work on the West 25th street sewer was authorized for purchase, as were bills of $193 for payment of a typewriter from the Louis Typewriter Co. and $495 for purchase of a calculator from Triangle Typewriter Co., both of the sewage treatment plant.

It included an item of $2002 in payment of the city's per capita share for membership in the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, and an item of $414 payable to the St. Louis Law Printing Co. for printing abstracts of records and an appendix of a circuit court decision last March which ordered at-large voting in the city election.

City Paying for Appeal
The payment to the law printing firm settled the question as to whether cost of the appeal would be assumed by the city or by city aldermen as individuals.

In the Navigation Regulations, and respectively request that the proposed changes be rescinded. "However, in the event you decide not to rescind the proposed changes, we request and urge you to schedule a public hearing in order to give all interests affected an opportunity to be heard on all aspects of the proposed changes."

Several individual companies also have filed protests on the Transport Co., Inc., Mid-South proposed changes, including Oil Towing Co., Ashland Oil & Refining Co. and Nilo Barge Line, Inc.

Comments and/or objections may be sent to the New Orleans District Engineer, Army Corps of Engineers, Post Office Box 60267, New Orleans, La. 70169 by Aug. 7.

Local Locks
"The proposed tow length limitation affects many of our members who have been operating barges and towboats on the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway and the Mississippi River System designed to make maximum effective use of the 1200-foot locks on the Upper Mississippi and Ohio Rivers."

"The net effect of the imposition of these proposed restrictions would be to increase the cost of barge transportation to both the operator and the shipper. Thus, some traffic could be lost, which in turn would have a detrimental effect on the utilization of our nation's shallow-draft navigation channels."

"For these reasons we must object to these proposed changes."

Advice to Investors—Don't Put All Your Eggs in One Basket

Q. I will receive an inheritance of about $10,000 in a few weeks. I have thought I would put $4000 in time deposit in our bank and invest the remainder in stocks. Would this be wise? I would like your opinion on how to invest the money.

A. Your plan makes sense to me.

I cannot advise you on specific securities, but I would suggest you put the $8000 into about four different corporations. I am sending you a copy of "Better Investing," and you might like to look at the stocks in its model portfolio for help in deciding what you should buy.

Prices in the stock market fluctuate a great deal and you might want to make your investment over a period of a few weeks, say $1500 a month. This would give you a chance for dollar cost averaging, thus making a possible drop in the market work to your advantage.

Q. Back in 1922 my father bought 20,000 shares in the Phoenix Iron Works of Meadville, Pa. It was later dissolved and nothing was paid to my father, not even the shares he had paid for the shares. I would like to know if this firm might have been bought up by some other company and this old stock still have some value.

A. You can get information by writing to the bank or trust company listed on the certificates as registrar. You might also write to the state security commissioner of the state in which the certificate shows the company was incorporated.

When Stocks Don't Gain

Q. Can you explain why a so-called growth company (Costal States Gas Co.) can show good increases in both sales and earnings, yet its shares sell for the same price or even less than it did a year ago?

Metric System Favored for U.S.

(American Institute of Physics)

According to a recent opinion survey reported in the magazine, "Industrial Research," an overwhelming majority (94%) of the 400 scientists and engineers who were tested felt the United States should adopt the metric units of measurement.

Only 9% of the persons questioned were against adopting the metric, while the remaining 93% favored partial conversion.

A meter is 3.281 feet; a liter, 1.057 quarts; a kilogram, 2.204 pounds.

Despite the fact that nearly all respondents favored metric conversion, the poll showed that 20% were at present using only the English system. Metric units of measurement were employed by 37%, and both systems were used by 43%.

Uniformity Urged

A three-to-one majority of survey participants felt the metric system, if adopted, should be mandatory rather than voluntary in all industries.

Nearly all respondents believed there would be definite advantages. They claimed it would simplify the purchase of goods and services, make it easier to teach in school, improve science and engineering communications, and aid the U.S. in world trade and defense.

When asked their opinion of a proposed three-year transition to metric conversion, more than two-thirds felt such a study would be worthwhile. 23% thought it would be a waste of money, and 4% felt it would not accomplish anything concrete toward the overall goal.

County Board Dumping Ban Provides Time For All Parties to Present Their Views

The decision by the Madison County Board of Supervisors to banish dumpsites from outside the county makes sense from the standpoint that each area should make provision for eliminating its own garbage and refuse.

This county has no need or desire to become the center of dumping for wide areas of Missouri and Illinois.

Whether or not the specific wording of the county board's action last week will be upheld by the courts remain to be seen. In the meantime, every effort should be made to work out additional safeguards that are both fair and enforceable.

The time that has been bought through the out-of-county dumping ban can prove valuable: much of the opposition to a recent landfill proposal stemmed from Chouteau township residents' belief that approval was being secretly rushed to the effect of date of stricter county dumping controls. Now there is time for all parties to be heard in full and to seek justice under law.

Citizens also voiced concern over what they considered a friendly attitude toward dump operators on the part of some of the county's elected and appointed officials. There is no evidence that this went beyond the courtesy of subsequent statements by such officials assailing the county board's ban and refusing to enforce it have done nothing to allay the public's apprehension.

Any county board or its assistant supervisors of Madison county have shown themselves to be interested in and responsive to the wishes of their constituents. It is a refreshing example of democracy in action. If we ever reach a time when citizens fail to speak their mind—whether due to fear of repercussions or belief that it will do no good—an essential freedom will have been lost.

Who Reads Advertising?

(Lewisville, Tex., Leader)

"Who is the reader of newspaper advertising?" This question was asked by Dr. S. Talbert, chairman of the Journalism Department of the University of Mississippi.

The answer given: He is the boy looking for a puppy, or someone with a litter of mongrels needing homes.

He is a builder looking for a loan, or a banker looking for an investor.

He or she is the whole community with unsatisfied wants and needs.

"This is not hypothetical," Dr. Talbert comments, adding that the reader of newspaper advertising is likely to be more intelligent and more literate than people who respond to other advertising.

He is likely to have more money to spend than other people.

She is over 80% of the women about to go grocery shopping.

He is nearly every man considering the purchase of an automobile, truck or tractor.

If he is an adult, he looks for advice on foods, sewing and parties. If a teenager, she sets the pace in selecting skirts, slacks and sneakers.

If he is a teenager, others follow him to dress shops, cycle shops and record stores.

The newspaper reader is someone looking for a house to rent, or someone trying to rent a house.

He is a lawyer looking for a typist, or a typist looking for a job.

He is a tycoon looking for a luxurious car, or an auto salesman looking for a tycoon.

Nationalist China and Vietnam

(U. S. Department of State)

If your house was on fire and your neighbor had a large fire hose and was willing to help you put out your fire, I believe you would not facilitate the solution of the Vietnam problem but would, rather, complicate it.

If this is true, then why do not we accept the use of Chiang Kai-shek's troops in our war in Vietnam? His men are trained and ready for this type of war.

Why not use them, thus ending the war sooner and saving thousands of our boys' lives? I am sure the men in Vietnam would be interested in your reply to this question.

G.A.M.

Dear Mr. M.:

During the visit of Premier Ky to Taiwan in 1965, the question of aid to Vietnam from the Republic of China was discussed. The Joint Communiqué issued at that time indicated the following statement:

"The Government of the Republic of China has decided to increase the volume of technical and material assistance which it is now providing more than one million dollars annually in agricultural, technical and medical assistance to Vietnam."

The Vietnamese government did not at the time of Premier Ky's visit nor, so far as we know, at any subsequent time, request that Nationalist Chinese troops be sent to Vietnam.

The United States government, on its part, believes the presence of Nationalist Chinese troops in Vietnam would cause the main issue between Taiwan and the mainland, that is the Chinese civil war, to become heavily involved in the already complicated Vietnam situation.

Under present circumstances, this would not facilitate the solution of the Vietnam problem but would, rather, complicate it.

Right of Appeal Vital to Justice

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

The right of appeal in a criminal case may seem at times to be a device employed by guilty persons to forestall their penalties, but it is an important safeguard against the miscarriage of justice.

Any person convicted of a crime has the right to appeal to a higher court for a review of the trial and sentence. In criminal cases where the death sentence has been imposed or in which the defendant has been sentenced to life imprisonment, the right of appeal is automatic.

There are many reasons for the right to appeal. Foremost, perhaps, is the guarantee of the law that no person shall be "deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law."

Part of Due Process

The appeal is an historic part of that "due process" and its purpose is to protect all persons against legal errors which may creep into the trial court proceedings.

For example: A judge may erroneously admit evidence that is harmful to the loser, or he may erroneously refuse to admit evidence that would help the defendant.

A prosecutor could accidentally fail to present all the facts, or

Some criminal law experts have proposed that every criminal trial sentence be made subject to review by appeals courts with the power to reduce sentences but not to increase them.

This procedure, it is suggested, would provide a safeguard against excessive sentences and unnecessary retrials where only the sentence is in question.

Appeals are made directly to the Appellate Court of Illinois in cases where the death sentence has been imposed or in which the defendant has been sentenced to life imprisonment. In all other cases, appeals are made to the Appellate Courts in the respective states.

Many persons convicted of crimes in Illinois do not appeal their cases. For an indigent person convicted of a crime punishable by a year or more in the penitentiary, the state pays for the appeal.

Boating Safety Rules Outlined

Small boats by the hundreds of thousands are back in the water this summer.

Boating accidents on lakes, streams and rivers are becoming more prevalent each season, as more comparative amateurs acquire boats and take to the water.

Pamphlets on boating safety are available in many sporting goods stores and at boat and motor dealers. If you have a boat, and even if you think you know how to handle it, play it safe; get a safety booklet and study it.

Common sense and good manners are cardinal safety principles in boating. Show respect for other boats, swimmers and fishermen.

It doesn't take much knowledge of boating to know that a big lake on a windy day can be dangerous for small craft.

Know the capacity of your boat and don't overload it. Don't stand up or change seats in a small craft while it is under way.

Make certain your boat contains life preservers for each person on board. They are an excellent idea for small children and non-swimmers.

Only an irresponsible skipper will buzz a dock, wharf or anchored craft. You may miss. Reduce speed through anchorages. Your wake can damage other property.

Avoid boating too close to water.

$443,335 State Aid To County Residents

A total of $443,335 in state aid was received by 837 Madison county residents during May, the Illinois Department of Public Aid reported today.

The number of recipients and amount of assistance by programs were: old age assistance, 131, $83,040; aid to dependent children, 510, $245,844; blind assistance, 33, $2496; disability assistance, 629, $82,512; and general assistance, 1004, $29,443.

Throughout the state, a total of 436,181 persons received $28,036,588 during May, compared to $27,038,402 for April and $26,022,631 for May, 1968.

There was an increase in the number of persons on old age assistance, disability assistance and aid to dependent children, and a decrease in blind assistance and general assistance.

ter skiers, fishermen and other boats.

Don't jump or dive from a moving boat. You may have the breath knocked out of you, or hit floating debris.

Stay within easy range of the shore on large bodies of water. Sudden squalls can play havoc with the unwary boatsman.

If your boat overturns, stay with it. The chances are that sooner or later someone will pick you up.

Very few individuals are in good enough physical condition for a long swim in rough or cold water.

Smith in Support Unit At Demilitarized Zone

Machinist Mate Fireman William R. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton J. Smith, 2529 Edgewood avenue, helped to land and provide support for Marines fighting near the Demilitarized Zone in Vietnam as a Navy crewman aboard the amphibious assault ship U.S.S. Tripoli, it was learned here this week.

The ship was one of several from the Seventh Fleet's amphibious force which took part in operations "Bear Claw" and "Beaver Track" along with Leathernecks of the First Battalion, Seventh Marine Regiment, and the Second Battalion, Third Marine Regiment.

Both operations lasted eight days, and throughout the action, his ship continued to supply the Marines ashore with whatever they needed. The supplies, which included hot meals, munitions, medicine and other requirements, were ferried by helicopters and small craft. Marine helicopters were kept busy evacuating wounded ground-forces Marines as well as delivering supplies.

A survey prepared for the city of Venice by the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission indicates that 57% of the people living on Kerr Island, who are to be displaced by construction of the Federal Aid Route 151, intend to move into North Venice and West Madison.

Results of the survey were presented to Venice council members by Alderman Charles Hampton.

Mayor John E. Lee described the data as the first definite information the city has received as to what Kerr Island residents plan to do when they move to provide right-of-way for the new highway.

"This gives us something definite to go on," the mayor said, "and also indicates more of a problem than we had expected in providing housing, schooling and room in North Venice."

The city has been working with the Madison County Housing Authority in development of plans for housing units to accommodate the displaced population that plans to remain in the Venice area.

EOC Made Survey
Maurice S. Harris, director of the EOC, told the council the survey was systematic and exhaustive and reflected a true picture of the situation. The survey was made by community workers of the EOC staff.

It shows a total population of 212 persons on Kerr Island with 101 of them, or 47%, in the one to 18 year bracket. Twenty persons are from 19 to 30 years of age, comprising 20% of the population. There are 23 persons, or approximately 10%, 31 to 44 years old, and 23 from 45 to 60 years. Forty-five, or 21%, of the total population, are over the age of 61.

Tentative plans, the survey points out, indicate only four families with a total of 22 persons plan to move out of the area. All of these told survey workers they plan to move to East St. Louis.

Most to North Venice
Thirty-seven families which make up 57% of the total number of families and include 18 persons, or 56% of the population, plan to move to North Venice or West Madison.

Twenty-three families, 34% of the total, including 75 persons or 30% of the population, said they are undecided.

The undecided group, the survey explained, gave as preferred areas of residence: six families (10%), East St. Louis; 13 families (56%), North Venice or West Madison; and four families (30%) unable to answer.

POST NASAL DRIP BEGINS IN THE NASOPHARYNX

To maintain moisture, the nasal passages produce copious quantities of both a watery secretion and a thicker mucus. A certain quantity always lingers in the upper throat or nasopharynx. If an overabundance accumulates, particularly of the mucus, the result is a post-nasal drip.

Some basic causes are air irritants, smoking, chemical or physical damages to the brain, gross deformities in nasal passages, climate, altitude or humidity. Gargling is not considered effective. Do not neglect medical treatment of post-nasal drip. Otherwise the tissues thicken resulting in permanent deformities which require surgical correction.

Pacque's BEAUTY SALON

Whether she be 18 or 81, no red-blooded American girl could imagine life without beauty shops. Which may have something to do with the existence of more than 60,000 such shops in the United States. Speaking for the opposite sex, we're delighted. As water system men (and women) we're delighted for another reason. Beauty shops are good water customers. We like being part of a beautiful business.

'Cool Look' for Home Interiors Recommended

By Mrs. Catherine R. Mauck
County Home Economics Advisor

To help combat summer's torrid temperatures, keep the inside of the house cool-looking. You can achieve a refreshing decorative effect in your rooms through the imaginative use of roller shades. And the cost won't strain the family budget. Roller shades are available in almost any decor in a vast array of colors, textures and patterns. You can combine them with a valance, cornice or other "topper" for a more finished look.

If you own plain-Jane roller shades, glamorize them with a bit of trim, such as fringe or tape, to add color. Or use curtain shapes or other fabric designs, which can be glued near the shade hem to form a border. You can repeat existing room colors or introduce a contrasting accent. For children's rooms, animal cutouts, balloons or kite shapes will delight the small-fry. Replacement of Material Replace worn shade material with fabric. For the best units, choose a closely woven, firm fabric. It may be the same that is used elsewhere in the room. Simply cut it to fit an existing roller, allowing 12 inches for tacking and roll-up plus enough extra to hold the slit in the hem. Selvages should be cut off and the sides hemmed to fit the roller width. Two rows of machine stitching on the side edges is good finish for firmly woven fabric. Shades with hemmed sides may not roll as well as ones with unhemmed sides.

To get the crispness necessary for a good-looking window shade, you may need to starch the fabric or treat it with a liquid vinyl solution or spray especially designed for this purpose. The vinyl stiffens the fabric so that it can be cut easily and will not ravel, eliminating side hems. To keep the back side of the patterned material from showing when the shade is rolled, reverse the shade mountings. The unrolled part of the shade will then cover the roller.

Anniversary Parade Tuesday Includes Many Local Groups

More than 50 units are entered in the Granite City Army Depot's 25th anniversary parade to be staged in the Quad-Cities Tuesday morning, Aug. 1.

The Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, working closely with Depot officials, is coordinating arrangements for the colorful event that will highlight a full day of activities at the local Army installation.

Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce the 11 a.m. parade will originate at Second street in Venice, proceed along Broadway to Madison avenue, north on Madison avenue to Niedringhaus avenue and west to the Depot grounds.

Setting the pace will be the Fort Leonard Wood and Scott Air Force Base military bands, 400 marching troops and decorated floats prepared by the Depot's various directorates.

Other parade entries will spotlight the Anniversary Queen and Court; Neighborhood Youth Corps float; the Depot safety officers' "safety bug"; 50th Ordnance Detachment exhibit; Lark's amphibious vehicle; 290-M tractor and scraper equipment; cryogenic display, which later will be open for public inspection; two floats designed by International Union of Operating Engineers Local 1490, including a band float and union officials' car; cars and boats entered by the Youth Opportunity Corps; and a float entered by the National Federation of Federal Employees.

Special attention will be focused on large Nike missile and Gemini capsule exhibits, both of which may be inspected following the parade on the Depot grounds.

The American Heritage Flag Team, composed of Boy Scout Troop 24 of Maryville and Plaza Indian Dancers and Twirlers from Alton also will be in the parade.

Don Adams, who is coordinating local civic and service organizations' entries for the Chamber of Commerce, said today that more than ten decorated floats and other entries are now registered with the parade committee.

Local groups that have indicated they will participate include:

Granite City Rotary club, Granite City Jaycees, city of Madison, International Order of Job's Daughters Bethel 65, Marilyn Champion School of Baton, Green Hall Boosters of Madison, Trailriders Saddle Club, Madison Lions and Boy Scout groups.

The Tri-Cities Chamber will sponsor its third annual "enlisted man's recognition dinner" at 6:30 p.m., Monday, July 31, at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn. Outstanding enlisted personnel will be recognized.

Another anniversary event taking place this week at the Depot is a five-day "open invitation" golf tournament, with trophies and prizes to be awarded.

To Undergo Surgery

Mrs. Margaret MacZura, 3208 Aubrey avenue, entered St. Lane, was arrested at 1:50 a.m. Mary's Hospital, Clayton, Mo., Tuesday on charges of speeding today preparatory to undergoing and violating a traffic signal at surgery Friday. She expects to Nemo road and Madison return home in about one week.
